Churchill, Eisenhower Hold Parley

Anglo Prime Minister Shows High Spirits, but U. S. Displays No Confidence

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill met with President Eisenhower today to see whether they can wipe out in intimate talks any "misunderstanding," as Churchill put it, between the two major powers of the anti-Communist world.

Portentous decisions, particularly on the Far East, hang in the balance on the weekend conferences between the President and his White House guest.

Churchill appeared to be in buoyant spirits on his arrival by plane, and seemingly sought to deprecate the rift between American and British policies. He spoke of the difficulties as "family matters" and suggested that whatever troubles the United States and Britain may have, those in the Communist world are "even greater."

Absence of Expression

On the American side, there was an absence of any public expression of confidence and hope about the talks such as, more often than not, is contained in welcoming statements on such occasions.

Diplomats here, in fact, hold a great doubt that anything to improve the situation actually can come out of the talks.

Eisenhowere greeted Churchill with a warm handshake at the White House steps. The British leader had been escorted there by Vice President Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles who met him and his party at the airport.

There were no public statements from Nixon and Dulles on Churchill's arrival but the British leader spoke to an airport crowd on his aims for the talks.

He put it this way:

"I've come with Anthony Eden to talk over a few family matters and try to make sure that there are no misunderstandings."

Churchill, in gray suit and homburg and carrying a gold-headed cane, stepped down from the big American-built British overseas airways plane promptly at 9 a. m. (EDT).

Foreign minister Eden was with him.

For a 79-year-old veteran of several wars and many historic diplomatic conferences, Churchill moved with remarkable sprightliness.

Crowd Greets Him

As the airport crowd cheered, Churchill lifted his hat and waved. The morning sunlight brightened his pink-faced smile.

A military guard drawn up in an open square around the edges of the parking apron stood at present arms.

Churchill shook hands with Vice

Public May Visit Vessel

The patrol craft escort, with its six officers and Naval Reserve crew, arrived ahead of schedule today and was prepared for the official welcoming party to come aboard at noon, at which time preparations started for public inspection.

Visiting hours at the Calso dock today, Saturday and Sunday are from noon to 4 p. m. Departure time is Monday morning.

A full schedule of entertainment has been planned for the officers and crew during the stay here of the PCE 895, a former submarine chaser in the Pacific during World War 2, now a training vessel for naval reservists and younger men getting their basic training.

Fourteen Persons Indicted in Plot To Impede Probe

Three Manhattan Lawyers Are Included in Writ Charging Conspiracy

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Fourteen persons, including three New York lawyers, were named today in an indictment accusing them of plotting to corrupt Internal Revenue Bureau officials and impede tax scandal investigations.

Atty. Gen. Brownell announced the return of the indictment by a federal grand jury in New York.

Four persons were named as defendants, the others as co-conspirators.

Those named as co-conspirators included Daniel A. Bolich, former No. 2 man in the old Internal Revenue Bureau, and Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald, long a mystery man around Washington.

The eight-count indictment named as defendants:

Samuel Schopick and Irving Davis, partners in the New York law firm of Schopick and Davis; Max Halperin, an attorney said to have been associated with the law firm from time to time; and Milton Hoffman, not an attorney but said to have occupied space with the law firm.

Only the first count of the indictment which alleges conspiracy included the names of the 10 alleged co-conspirators.

Alleged Co-Conspirators

In addition to Grunewald and Bolich, the indictment named the following as co-conspirators:

Max Steibberg, former group chief in the office of the internal revenue agent in charge of the upper New York division; Morton Marx, James A. Zipfer, Marjorie Zipfer Segal, and Samuel Cohen, share holders in Pattullo Modes Inc., a dress manufacturing firm; Maurice Smith, an accountant for Pattullo Modes; Louis M. Berman and Philip Berman, partners in the Gotham Beef Co. and stockholders and principals in Gotham Ship Purveyors Inc., all of New York.

The conspiracy count alleges the four defendants and 10-co-conspirators endeavored to influence, intimidate, and impede witnesses before a Brooklyn grand jury and before a House ways and means subcommittee which investigated tax scandals.

Brownell said in a statement that both the Treasury and Justice Departments are continuing the investigations of tax scandals before grand juries in both New York and Washington.

Andrews Made Check

Brownell said the indictment followed an investigation directed by Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews.

As part of the conspiracy, the indictment said, the defendants and law firm, in order to induce clients and prospective clients to retain the law firm, would corruptly use confidential information previously obtained from Bolich and Steinberg and from other unnamed employes of the revenue office.

In some cases, the indictment charged, clients were solicited even before they knew that criminal investigations had been started by the Revenue Bureau.

Also, the indictment charged, the conspiracy included the offering of gifts, gratuities and sums of money to Steinberg and other

Skipper and Crew Reach Manhattan After Rough Trip

Aries Is Due Tuesday in Kingston With Special Greetings to Mayor

CECIL HARCOURT-SMITH

In New York after a rough 33-day crossing of the Atlantic, the 61-foot British craft Aries, a converted lifeboat, is due to arrive here Tuesday with greetings to this city from Kingston-Upon-Thames, England, from which it sailed May 22.

The motor craft with its four-man crew arrived in New York yesterday. It will carry a special message from Mayor G. R. Lines, of Kingston, England, to Mayor Frederick H. Stang, and will be greeted by a committee headed by Larry V. Bogert.

Commanded by Cecil Harcourt-Smith, a retired British naval officer, the vessel was eight days behind schedule because of frequent storms. The crew had expected to make a non-stop voyage, but had to stop for fuel and shelter at the Azores and Bermuda.

Among Those Aboard

Among those aboard were wireless operator Harry Skelton, crewman David Foden, and Alex Dellow, a London photographer.

The group expects to make a return trip but Dellow said he would not be aboard.

The vessel is a British rescue craft rather than the American version of a lifeboat. It somewhat resembles an American Coast Guard cutter.

The trip was intended in part to test new radio communications equipment for the royal navy and to see if the craft could withstand a long voyage.

Harcourt-Smith said his wife, Eileen, is joining him here today. She is coming by transatlantic plane.

"My wife said to me, 'you're 56 and if you want to be a fool I won't stop you,'" the skipper said when asked what his spouse thought of the boat trip.

Guatemalan Chiefs Say Invasion Will End Quickly

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Guatemalan rebel command said last night its forces were massed for a full-scale attack on Chiquimula and that "bloody" fighting already raged there. But government military leaders, boasting advances on "all fronts," vowed to bring the invasion to a speedy end.

A communique from the invasion headquarters of Guatemalan exile leader Col. Carlos Castillo Armas said a major battle was shaping up at Chiquimula, less than 70 miles northeast of the Guatemalan capital.

The announcement said that as the rebels pressed in to attack, the government hastily reinforced the Chiquimula garrison with artillery, mortars and machineguns. The communique said the garrison commander had deserted to the rebels.

16 Towns Held

Castillo Armas claimed his rebel forces now hold 16 Guatemalan towns, seized since the invaders moved in from the Honduran border last Friday in a bid to unseat President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's Communist-supported regime.

On the diplomatic front, the strained relations between Guatemala and neighboring Honduras appeared near the breaking point.

Informed sources said the Honduran government was about to demand the expulsion of Guatemalan Ambassador Amadeo Chinchilla on grounds he sparked Wednesday's leftist student demonstration in Tegucigalpa. Seven persons were wounded when police opened fire.

The Hondurans also reportedly suspect the envoy of hiring saboteurs to tamper with Honduran Air Force fighter planes found damaged in a workship.

Both sides made conflicting military claims at frequent intervals.

Communications Cut

The rebel "liberation army" claimed communications had been cut between Guatemala City and the rail town of Zacapa, and also between Zacapa and the chief Caribbean port, Puerto Barrios.

The bulletin said the rebels held these towns: Esquipulas, Morales, Quetzaltepeque, Jocotan, Bananera, Santo Tomas, Gualan, Tene-

Teen-Agers Arrested by Cpl. Dunn

State and Local Police Say Two Admit to Thefts—Parolee Also Is Charged

Teen-agers, caught after a 90-mile-an-hour chase along Route 28 yesterday in a stolen car, are charged by local and state police with involvement in a series of recent thefts in the city and vicinity.

Cpl. Ray Dunn of the state police caught two of a group believed to have committed car thefts and burglaries in the area, after the car in which they rode, passed a school bus between West Hurley and Glenford at high speed at about 4 p. m.

They were questioned by Sgt. Arthur Reilly of the state police BCI and Lt. William Leonard of the local police, and both claimed they admitted thefts during the past several weeks. Lt. Leonard booked the two 15-year-olds, which Cpl. Dunn said were in the stolen car, and another 13-year-old boy as juvenile delinquents.

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons were due to question the boys today.

Passed School Bus

Harold N. Johnston, of 327 Broadway, driver of the school bus, told Cpl. Dunn that the car had passed the bus as it was stopped between West Hurley and Glenford. He saw it coming and kept the door closed so the pupils could not get out until after it had passed, Dunn said. The bus was headed toward West Hurley and the car was going toward Phoenicia.

Cpl. Ray Dunn, with Game Warden Henry Bernstein in the police car, was headed toward Kingston and was only a short distance behind the bus.

Dunn turned around and pursued the car and he said it was going 90 miles an hour as it passed Temple's pond. He caught them at Shokan. They were brought first to the Kingston state police station where after questioning by Sgt. Reilly they were turned over for questioning by Lt. Leonard. They were paroled in the custody of their parents after booking at headquarters.

Charged With Car Theft

Lt. Leonard said the boys were charged with having taken the Hudson car involved from the Nadler garage on Albany avenue on June 23. Mrs. Peter Fabbie, of 68 Wilson avenue, Thursday reported a set of plates stolen from the Fabbie car, and these police said, were found on the stolen car.

Police indicated that the key from the stolen car had been

Police Can Wear Lighter Clothing

Commissioners Vote Move —Chief Gives His May Report

Local patrolmen will be permitted to wear lighter shirts this summer as the result of police board action yesterday.

The police commissioners voted to allow the officers to wear a shirt selected by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association, which contains nylon and is generally lighter than the summer shirts of former years.

Chief Raymond VanBuren's report for May showed 27 persons hurt in 14 traffic mishaps and 117 arrests made in the month.

Nine Persons Hurt

Of those injured in accidents nine were hurt on May 19 in the collision of two buses at Broadway and Meadow street. The others were hurt in eight collisions involving two or more vehicles, one involved a bicycle and four pedestrians were injured.

Of the arrests 40 were for public intoxication, 18 for disorderly conduct, 17 for violations of the city traffic code, 10 for violations of the vehicle and traffic law, eight for third degree assault, one for second degree assault, four on bad check charges, four for juvenile delinquency, two for burglary, third degree, one for driving while intoxicated, one for second degree grand larceny, one for petit larceny and one for malicious mischief.

Of those arrested 19 were committed to jail, 13 fined, 32 given suspended sentences, six were discharged and six cases withdrawn. Three cases went to the grand jury and 22 forfeited bail. Five cases were listed as pending.

Man Is Killed

Elmsford, June 25 (AP)—One man was killed and another was overcome last night while working in a manhole on an electric line Consolidated Edison is constructing between substations here and White Plains. The dead man was Francis J. Gosselin, 33, of (210-16 94th avenue) Queens Village, Queens, a field mechanic for the company. Paul Schmidt, of (412 Maitland avenue) West Englewood, N. J., a superintendent's assistant, was revived and taken to Grasslands Hospital at East View. His condition today was reported as fair.

Hoffman Declares That Nothing Is Wrong —Meyner Is Accused

Newark, N. J., June 25 (AP)—A surprise after-death defense put ex-Gov. Harold G. Hoffman on record today as denying he did wrong as New Jersey employment security director even though he had embezzled $300,000 from his own bank.

"As far as I know, there has been nothing wrong in my state department," the late Republican governor said in a letter released last night by his daughter, Mrs. Ada Hoffman Leonard.

Point by point, he hacked away at some of the state's charges, with denials or ridicule, and depicted himself as a politically persecuted man.

He accused Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner, who suspended him, of participating in a rental-purchasing arrangement for which Hoffman himself had been criticized.

Came in Letters

Hoffman's defense came in letters and documents he sent Mrs. Leonard shortly before his death June 4. She made them public as she began an attack on Meyner.

"Dancing on the grave," she termed the continued fanfare about her father.

Mrs. Leonard said her father had been condemned "for every

Chicago, June 25 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) led in one Chicago newspaper poll and the army was ahead in a second today as both newspapers neared the end of balloting on reaction to the recent McCarthy-army hearings.

In the Daily News poll with 27,300 votes counted, McCarthy's lead, in percentage figures, was approximately 56.5 to 43.5.

The Sun-Times reported that of 31,088 votes by secret ballot on whether the army had proved its case, 54.4 per cent voted Yes; 34.3 per cent No and 11.3 per cent partially.

The Sun-Times poll's final tabulation was expected Sunday, with votes received up to midnight tonight to be counted.

State Commander Talks to Selectees For Legion State

Last night's reception at Holiday Inn, West Shokan, for 10 Ulster county teen-agers going to American Legion Boys State on the campus of Colgate University, Hamilton, featured a talk by Commander Paul S. Samuels of the Department of New York about the program designed to meet the needs of present-day youth relative to procedures in government.

Samuels, who made the trip from his Poughkeepsie home despite illness, complimented the youths for their interest in the Legion project, and praised the 10 Ulster county posts for naming selectees to attend the week's session, starting June 27.

The state commander, introduced by P. Joseph Beichert, Port Ewen, Boys State chairman in Ulster county for the past eight years, told the selectees and approximately 50 Legionnaires at the dinner that "the program is not only meant to be educational, but a demonstration in practical Americanism.

Practical Course

"It is a course in practical civics, which teaches the boy of high school age that there is nothing wrong with our form of government, and that all we need to insure the well being of our country are intelligent and loyal citizens and an honest and impartial administration of all branches of government."

Participating in the mythial state, the Legion selectees elect their own governor, organize their own legislature and name officials to various posts in the various branches of government.

List of Selectees

The 10 boys leaving Sunday for Colgate are:

Carl V. Bremer, Ashokan; Roy Anderson, Ellenville; Louis C. DeStasi, Highland; Robert H. Maines, Kingston; Charles J. Mandia, Marlborough; Robert E. Hicks, New Paltz; Charles G. Draper, Phoenicia; Thomas J. Lamb, Port Ewen; Warren Kellerhouse, Saugerties; Wilson C. Edmunds, Wallkill.

Soviets Accuse U. S. Navy Of Seizing Tanker in East

Taipeh, Formosa, June 25 (AP)—Nationalist China announced tonight that one of its warships seized the Russian tanker Tuapse Wednesday off Formosa and indicated the vessel and its cargo might be confiscated.

The 8,840-ton Danish-built tanker is being held at the south Formosan port of Kaohsiung, the announcement said.

Word that the Tuapse was in Nationalist hands came hours after the Soviet Union, in a stiff note made public in Moscow earlier today, accused the United States of seizing the tanker.

The Soviet note said the Tuapse was seized in waters between Formosa and the Philippines "by a warship of the destroyer type" which threatened to open fire.

Americans Accused

Moscow, June 25 (AP)—The Soviet Union accused the U. S. Navy today of seizing a Russian tanker in waters between Formosa and the Phillippines. The Danish-built ship was one the Americans tried last year to prevent being delivered to the Russians.

A stiff Russian note, made public here today, said the 8,840-ton Tuapse was seized Wednesday "by a warship of the destroyer type" which threatened to open fire. The note threatened "appropriate measures for safeguard-

Water Board Clarifies Its Regulations for Sprinkling

Benjamin Schecter, president of the Board of Water Commissioners, today issued a statement to clarify the water department's reasons for sprinkling regulations.

The statement indicated that "many inquiries" were made since "the lawn-sprinkling notice published in Wednesday's Freeman."

The announcement noted that an initial phase of a construction program began in January to "enable the city to receive maximum quantities of water." One part, the replacement of a 70-year-old conduit, has been completed, to date.

Adequate Supplies

"It is now possible to deliver adequate supplies of water to the city under normal conditions. At this time last year a demand of 5,500,000 gallons of water per day would have seriously endangered the supply line. During the past week of record heat over 6,500,000 gallons of water were being delivered to the city daily. This represents an increase of nearly 50 per cent over the normal."

When such a demand occurs, the statement said, "the pressures in the higher areas of the city have always decreased alarmingly. Sections of the 11th and 12th wards, at times this week, were not only without adequate fire protection, but also lacked water for domestic use."

Further Explanation

The statement explained further:

"A similar pressure difficulty which had existed for many years in the 3rd, 4th, 5th, 8th, and 9th Wards, was relieved to a great extent by the construction of the 500,000 gallon elevated tank on Florence street. Under the present construction program the Water Department has planned the erection of a 600,000 gallon tank at the end of Pearl street. Contracts have already been awarded to the Chicago Bridge and Iron Company for its erection. The completion of this tank, with its pumping station and supply lines

Yonkers Tries to Retain Old Smith Carpet Plant

Yonkers, June 25 (AP)—Yonkers officials searched today for a way to save the city's historic old Alexander Smith carpet plant following a company announcement of plans to close the factory and transfer operations elsewhere.

City authorities said they would do everything possible to keep the 90-year-old institution operating in Yonkers, but they were none too hopeful.

"I don't know if anything can be done," said City Manager Charles L. Curran.

The 40-acre factory, with a recent weekly pay roll of $170,000, has been the city's biggest single employer during its entire history. In addition, it is one of the city's biggest taxpayers. Its tax bill this year is $170,030.

In announcing the shutdown plans yesterday, the company said the step was necessary for reasons of economy—high operating costs in the face of slackening business.

The company said it lost $1,800,000 on its Yonkers operation last year.

There also have been labor difficulties in recent years, and the factory has been strikebound since some 2,000 CIO Textile Union members walked out June 15 in a dispute over a new work contract.

William Pollock, executive vice president of the union, also expressed dismay over developments.

He said he and other union officials would meet with company executives to discuss the situation.

"I can't believe that a company with such responsibilities to its

Passed School Bus

Harold N. Johnston, of 327 Broadway, driver of the school bus, told Cpl. Dunn that the car had passed the bus as it was stopped between West Hurley and Glenford. He saw it coming and kept the door closed so the pupils could not get out until after it had passed, Dunn said. The bus was headed toward West Hurley and the car was going toward Phoenicia.

Cpl. Ray Dunn, with Game Warden Henry Bernstein in the police car, was headed toward Kingston and was only a short distance behind the bus.

Dunn turned around and pursued the car and he said it was going 90 miles an hour as it passed Temple's pond. He caught them at Shokan. They were brought first to the Kingston state police station where after questioning by Sgt. Reilly they were turned over for questioning by Lt. Leonard. They were paroled in the custody of their parents after booking at headquarters.

Charged With Car Theft

Lt. Leonard said the boys were charged with having taken the Hudson car involved from the Nadler garage on Albany avenue on June 23. Mrs. Peter Fabbie, of 68 Wilson avenue, Thursday reported a set of plates stolen from the Fabbie car, and these police said, were found on the stolen car.

Police indicated that the key from the stolen car had been

Police Can Wear Lighter Clothing

Commissioners Vote Move —Chief Gives His May Report

Local patrolmen will be permitted to wear lighter shirts this summer as the result of police board action yesterday.

The police commissioners voted to allow the officers to wear a shirt selected by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association, which contains nylon and is generally lighter than the summer shirts of former years.

Chief Raymond VanBuren's report for May showed 27 persons hurt in 14 traffic mishaps and 117 arrests made in the month.

Nine Persons Hurt

Of those injured in accidents nine were hurt on May 19 in the collision of two buses at Broadway and Meadow street. The others were hurt in eight collisions involving two or more vehicles, one involved a bicycle and four pedestrians were injured.

Of the arrests 40 were for public intoxication, 18 for disorderly conduct, 17 for violations of the city traffic code, 10 for violations of the vehicle and traffic law, eight for third degree assault, one for second degree assault, four on bad check charges, four for juvenile delinquency, two for burglary, third degree, one for driving while intoxicated, one for second degree grand larceny, one for petit larceny and one for malicious mischief.

Of those arrested 19 were committed to jail, 13 fined, 32 given suspended sentences, six were discharged and six cases withdrawn. Three cases went to the grand jury and 22 forfeited bail. Five cases were listed as pending.

Man Is Killed

Elmsford, June 25 (AP)—One man was killed and another was overcome last night while working in a manhole on an electric line Consolidated Edison is constructing between substations here and White Plains. The dead man was Francis J. Gosselin, 33, of (210-16 94th avenue) Queens Village, Queens, a field mechanic for the company. Paul Schmidt, of (412 Maitland avenue) West Englewood, N. J., a superintendent's assistant, was revived and taken to Grasslands Hospital at East View. His condition today was reported as fair.

Hoffman Declares That Nothing Is Wrong —Meyner Is Accused

Newark, N. J., June 25 (AP)—A surprise after-death defense put ex-Gov. Harold G. Hoffman on record today as denying he did wrong as New Jersey employment security director even though he had embezzled $300,000 from his own bank.

"As far as I know, there has been nothing wrong in my state department," the late Republican governor said in a letter released last night by his daughter, Mrs. Ada Hoffman Leonard.

Point by point, he hacked away at some of the state's charges, with denials or ridicule, and depicted himself as a politically persecuted man.

He accused Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner, who suspended him, of participating in a rental-purchasing arrangement for which Hoffman himself had been criticized.

Came in Letters

Hoffman's defense came in letters and documents he sent Mrs. Leonard shortly before his death June 4. She made them public as she began an attack on Meyner.

"Dancing on the grave," she termed the continued fanfare about her father.

Mrs. Leonard said her father had been condemned "for every

McCarthy-Army Polls Are Split

One Favors Senator, Second Is for Service in Secret Ballots

Chicago, June 25 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) led in one Chicago newspaper poll and the army was ahead in a second today as both newspapers neared the end of balloting on reaction to the recent McCarthy-army hearings.

In the Daily News poll with 27,300 votes counted, McCarthy's lead, in percentage figures, was approximately 56.5 to 43.5.

The Sun-Times reported that of 31,088 votes by secret ballot on whether the army had proved its case, 54.4 per cent voted Yes; 34.3 per cent No and 11.3 per cent partially.

The Sun-Times poll's final tabulation was expected Sunday, with votes received up to midnight tonight to be counted.

The Daily News poll will close Sunday. The Daily News ballot was published only once, last Saturday. It reported today that in voting on the question did Secretary Stevens and his staff prove that Sen. McCarthy and his staff used improper pressure in behalf of Pvt. G. David Schine? the vote was 15,471 No; 11,795 Yes.

Was Charge Proved

The second question voted on was: Did McCarthy and his staff prove their charge that Stevens and army counselor John Adams tried improperly to force a stoppage of the inquiry into communism in the army? The vote showed 15,349 Yes and 11,944 No.

State Commander Talks to Selectees For Legion State

Last night's reception at Holiday Inn, West Shokan, for 10 Ulster county teen-agers going to American Legion Boys State on the campus of Colgate University, Hamilton, featured a talk by Commander Paul S. Samuels of the Department of New York about the program designed to meet the needs of present-day youth relative to procedures in government.

Samuels who made the trip from his Poughkeepsie home despite illness, complimented the youths for their interest in the Legion project, and praised the 10 Ulster county posts for naming selectees to attend the week's session, starting June 27.

The state commander, introduced by P. Joseph Beichert, Port Ewen, Boys State chairman in Ulster county for the past eight years, told the selectees and approximately 50 Legionnaires at the dinner that "the program is not only meant to be educational, but a demonstration in practical Americanism.

Practical Course

"It is a course in practical civics, which teaches the boy of high school age that there is nothing wrong with our form of government, and that all we need to insure the well being of our country are intelligent and loyal citizens and an honest and impartial administration of all branches of government."

Participating in the mythial state, the Legion selectees elect their own governor, organize their own legislature and name officials to various posts in the various branches of government.

List of Selectees

The 10 boys leaving Sunday for Colgate are:

Carl V. Bremer, Ashokan; Roy Anderson, Ellenville; Louis C. DeStasi, Highland; Robert H. Maines, Kingston; Charles J. Mandia, Marlborough; Robert E. Hicks, New Paltz; Charles G. Draper, Phoenicia; Thomas J. Lamb, Port Ewen; Warren Kellerhouse, Saugerties; Wilson C. Edmunds, Wallkill.

Soviets Accuse U. S. Navy Of Seizing Tanker in East

Taipeh, Formosa, June 25 (AP)—Nationalist China announced tonight that one of its warships seized the Russian tanker Tuapse Wednesday off Formosa and indicated the vessel and its cargo might be confiscated.

The 8,840-ton Danish-built tanker is being held at the south Formosan port of Kaohsiung, the announcement said.

Word that the Tuapse was in Nationalist hands came hours after the Soviet Union, in a stiff note made public in Moscow earlier today, accused the United States of seizing the tanker.

The Soviet note said the Tuapse was seized in waters between Formosa and the Philippines "by a warship of the destroyer type" which threatened to open fire.

Americans Accused

Moscow, June 25 (AP)—The Soviet Union accused the U. S. Navy today of seizing a Russian tanker in waters between Formosa and the Phillippines. The Danish-built ship was one the Americans tried last year to prevent being delivered to the Russians.

A stiff Russian note, made public here today, said the 8,840-ton Tuapse was seized Wednesday "by a warship of the destroyer type" which threatened to open fire. The note threatened "appropriate measures for safeguard-

Water Board Clarifies Its Regulations for Sprinkling

Benjamin Schecter, president of the Board of Water Commissioners, today issued a statement to clarify the water department's reasons for sprinkling regulations.

The statement indicated that "many inquiries" were made since "the lawn-sprinkling notice published in Wednesday's Freeman."

The announcement noted that an initial phase of a construction program began in January to "enable the city to receive maximum quantities of water." One part, the replacement of a 70-year-old conduit, has been completed, to date.

Adequate Supplies

"It is now possible to deliver adequate supplies of water to the city under normal conditions. At this time last year a demand of 5,500,000 gallons of water per day would have seriously endangered the supply line. During the past week of record heat over 6,500,000 gallons of water were being delivered to the city daily. This represents an increase of nearly 50 per cent over the normal."

When such a demand occurs, the statement said, "the pressures in the higher areas of the city have always decreased alarmingly. Sections of the 11th and 12th wards, at times this week, were not only without adequate fire protection, but also lacked water for domestic use."

Further Explanation

The statement explained further:

"A similar pressure difficulty which had existed for many years in the 3rd, 4th, 5th, 8th, and 9th Wards, was relieved to a great extent by the construction of the 500,000 gallon elevated tank on Florence street. Under the present construction program the Water Department has planned the erection of a 600,000 gallon tank at the end of Pearl street. Contracts have already been awarded to the Chicago Bridge and Iron Company for its erection. The completion of this tank, with its pumping station and supply lines

Yonkers Tries to Retain Old Smith Carpet Plant

Yonkers, June 25 (AP)—Yonkers officials searched today for a way to save the city's historic old Alexander Smith carpet plant following a company announcement of plans to close the factory and transfer operations elsewhere.

City authorities said they would do everything possible to keep the 90-year-old institution operating in Yonkers, but they were none too hopeful.

"I don't know if anything can be done," said City Manager Charles L. Curran.

The 40-acre factory, with a recent weekly pay roll of $170,000, has been the city's biggest single employer during its entire history. In addition, it is one of the city's biggest taxpayers. Its tax bill this year is $170,030.

In announcing the shutdown plans yesterday, the company said the step was necessary for reasons of economy—high operating costs in the face of slackening business.

The company said it lost $1,800,000 on its Yonkers operation last year.

There also have been labor difficulties in recent years, and the factory has been strikebound since some 2,000 CIO Textile Union members walked out June 15 in a dispute over a new work contract.

William Pollock, executive vice president of the union, also expressed dismay over developments.

He said he and other union officials would meet with company executives to discuss the situation.

"I can't believe that a company with such responsibilities to its

Thruway Work Status Uncertain

The work stoppage on Thruway trucking jobs on the George M. Brewster & Sons Company operations in the area appeared in an uncertain status today, with company officials holding to a "no comment" rule.

The stoppage began on Wednesday when Teamsters Union pickets appeared on the Brewster projects.

One independent truck operator, Robert Perry, said shortly before noon today that he believed the trucks were working, as his trucks left early in the morning and had not returned.

At the Brewster company field office, officials still refused to talk about the situation, and instructed the switchboard operator to tell those who called about the reported "strike" that they had "no comment."

A spokesman who described himself as "a laborer" at the Poughkeepsie office of Local 445, International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, said that no responsible union official was present who could offer information on the dispute.

A further possible development was hinted at when Richard Overbagh, attorney for Patsy Belsito, who engages the services of independent trucks for Brewster, said today that a "lengthy conference" had been held Thursday night with Assistant District Attorney John Schick. Subject of the conference could not be learned authoritatively.

Two Women Sought

Chicago, June 25 (AP)—Two unidentified women were sought today for questioning by police investigating the death of Montgomery Ward Thorne, 20-year-old heir to a mail order house fortune. Police Sgt. Thomas Mulvey said the women were seen using a public telephone a few feet from Thorne's room in a Gold Coast Apartment building about the time Thorne is believed to have died. The cause of young Thorne's death has not yet been established. A chemical analysis of his vital organs is being made. Mulvey said Oke Beschen, 34, a printer, who occupies a room next to that of Thorne, reported seeing the two women in a fourth-floor hallway about 7:45 a. m. (CST) June 19, the day of Thorne's death. The youth's room was on the fourth floor.

Bearsville Group Insist Pupils' Welfare in Issue

Residents of the Bearsville school district who are in opposition to the district being annexed to the Onteora Central School District, avow they are interested only in the welfare of the pupils of the district and the taxpayers of the district and have no intention of entering into a controversy with others over the proposal.

Richard Jeffrey, spokesman for the group, said today the only interest the group had was to give the best facilities to the students and it was believed maintaining their own school was best.

'Push' Is Seen

Jeffrey said the group feels strongly that the issue had not been considered important enough at the annual school meeting to come up for discussion but that it now appears as if the State Commissioner of Education, District Superintendent and the Bearsville group is trying to push the thing through with undue pressure.

"Many people we have contacted will be away from town that weekend, which is not unusual for the July 4th weekend and in other instances people are engaged in business activities such as tourists homes etc., and do not feel free to leave their properties," said Jeffrey. He pointed out that the calling of the meeting for July 3 to make a decision as to the future of the school, was rather soon. More time should have been given before the referendum vote.

Questions Asked

Last evening Birge Simmons, Joseph Marr, Richard Jeffrey and Homer Fisher again held a meeting and "rather than make lengthy statements" propounded the following questions for the Bearsville district voters to consider:

1. Have the people with the petion to join Onteora told anyone that the Bearsville school was already closed?
2. Is it true that the Bearsville school is closed as stated?
3. Under existing law can the state close Bearsville school?
4. Did the majority of Bearsville high school children attend Kingston High School last year?
5. If Onteora will keep Bearsville school open, as stated, wouldn't a vote for Onteora only raise Bearsville taxes?
6. Is New York city working to get the state to lower New York city's taxes?
7. Would such action of New York city raise Onteora's tax rate?
8. Was the Onteora issue avoided at the annual school meeting?
9. Will the voters in Bearsville district have to travel to Onteora for school meetings if we join Onteora?
10. Will Onteora pay tuition for children now attending Kingston High School if we centralize?
11. Is the July 3 meeting an issue between Bearsville and Onteora only.
12. Was the date of the meeting set to enable the residents to vote intelligently.
13. Why is overcrowded Onteora working to get Bearsville?

Cement Workers Reject Settlement

Catskill, June 25 (AP)—Approximately 150 striking employes of the Alpha Portland Cement Co. here yesterday rejected a company settlement.

A spokesman for the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers Union, AFL, said the company had proposed an immediate five-cent-an-hour wage increase, plus 2½ times base pay for holidays.

He said the union also sought a second guaranteed five-cent-an-hour increase, effective next April 1, similar to one granted the neighboring North American Corp plant Monday, effective next May 1, about 215 employes there resumed work Tuesday morning.

Union members at another Catskill plant, Lehigh Portland Cement, have not yet voted on an offer. Other cement companies affected by the two-month-old strike are Universal-Atlas and Lone Star.

Monday's vote was the first break in a strike that has crippled cement production in the northeast and stalled work on numerous big construction projects.

The wage scale has ranged from $1.50 to $2 an hour.

Child Labor Project

Salem, Mass. (AP)—Beach-going youngsters have 1,500 tons of stand to move this summer and Salem officials think they'll do it with pails and shovels. Because of unusual tide conditions, Crane's beach in nearby Ipswich had too much sand. And because of lack of snow Salem's snow division was inactive. Thinking the sand would improve Salem's beaches, the snow crews hauled the sand and dumped it in piles above the flood tide mark. Now it's up to the children to spread it.

Alan Gilbert to Play In Finian's Rainbow

ALAN GILBERT

Woodstock, June 25—When Alan Gilbert steps out of the wings at the Woodstock Playhouse on the opening night of Finian's Rainbow, Friday, July 2, he will relive one of the big moments of his life. Seven years ago the young actor-singer made the same entrance in the same play. It was his first starring role and he faced a polite first-night audience in a London theatre.

"I was as nervous as a kid with his first recitation," Gilbert recalled the other day before starting rehearsals in Woodstock. "I had heard all the usual stories about the English — how they have no sense of humor, they're critical of Americans, they don't give." But none of those things are true. They fell for Finian's just as Broadway audiences did. We had a five-months run there."

Opens July 2

Gilbert remained in the cast as Woody Mahoney, the romantic lead, when the company returned for another engagement in New York. He has the same part in the Woodstock Playhouse production under the direction of Michael Howard. The musical satire will be seen nightly from July 2 through Sunday, July 11, with no performance Monday, July 5.

Gilbert, a dark-haired sixfooter, was educated at Northwestern University and the Juilliard and Mannes schools of music. He served with the Army Signal Corps in World War 2. Today, when not directing television, which takes up most of his time, he is involved in his hobby.

"I've just become the fond purchaser of a new Austin-Healey—a British racing sports car," he said. "It sounds like an expensive hobby, but I'm not going to let it be. I'm planning to race in the fall."

Gets First Chance

Gilbert got his first chance in the theatre in Something for the Boys, with Ethel Merman, after he got out of the army. Then he had small parts in Bloomer Girl and Billion Dollar Baby. He understudied the leading role of the young lieutenant in South Pacific for two years and played the part for six weeks when the star was ill. After night club appearances on the West Coast he returned to New York to act in A Tree Grows in Brooklyn with Shirley Booth.

For a while Gilbert gave up the theatre and lived in Woodstock, working in an executive position at the Rotron Manufacturing plant.

"I thought I'd have more security," he explained, "but I couldn't stay away from the entertainment business."

Taking leading roles with Gilbert in the Woodstock Playhouse offering of the summer will be Miss Susan Reed, Leonardo Cimino, Michael Lewin, Betty Lind, Bernard Kates and Heywood Hale Broun.

Boys Are Caught

taken from the Nadler car lot during the day of the theft and the boys went back for the car at night. Both Lt. Leonard and Sgt. Reilly said that questioning of the boys indicated that they and others had been involved in several other recent thefts in the city and the town of Ulster.

Other Burglaries

These included the theft of other automobiles and burglaries at gas stations and stores, the officers said. They had hidden the stolen Hudson temporarily at Lawton park, Leonard said. It was also indicated that the statements by the boys accounted for the recent theft of a car from the Martin-Moran garage on East Chester street. The car was recovered on Washington avenue with a run-down battery a few days ago.

Police also said that questioning of the boys revealed that among others involved in the recent series of thefts here in the town of Ulster was a boy who has been on parole. He was charged with other car thefts and burglaries in Kingston.

Rebels Mass . . .

dores, Camotan, Iguana, Quebrades, Entre Rios, York Olopa, Champons, El Estor and Vado Hondo.

"Radio Liberation," heard in neighboring El Salvador, said the rebels controlled the main highways and communications and would soon strangle the government forces into immobility through a shortage of fuel.

The government radio, on the other hand, declared army troops were advancing on all fronts, leaving "many dead and wounded" in their wake.

The army high command declared "a final blow" was being prepared against the rebels.

An army spokesman in Guatemala City said the back of the invasion had been broken and predicted the war would be over in about a week.

The spokesman said government forces won a major victory yesterday at Morales, one of the 16 towns claimed by the rebels.

Most observers here feel the rebel drive had bogged down and that failure of Guatemala's peasants to join in the uprising had thrown the invasion badly out of gear.

Thruway Work Status Uncertain

The work stoppage on Thruway trucking jobs on the George M. Brewster & Sons Company operations in the area appeared in an uncertain status today, with company officials holding to a "no comment" rule.

The stoppage began on Wednesday when Teamsters Union pickets appeared on the Brewster projects.

One independent truck operator, Robert Perry, said shortly before noon today that he believed the trucks were working, as his trucks left early in the morning and had not returned.

At the Brewster company field office, officials still refused to talk about the situation, and instructed the switchboard operator to tell those who called about the reported "strike" that they had "no comment."

A spokesman who described himself as "a laborer" at the Poughkeepsie office of Local 445, International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, said that no responsible union official was present who could offer information on the dispute.

A further possible development was hinted at when Richard Overbagh, attorney for Patsy Belsito, who engages the services of independent trucks for Brewster, said today that a "lengthy conference" had been held Thursday night with Assistant District Attorney John Schick. Subject of the conference could not be learned authoritatively.

The cause of young Thorne's death has not yet been established. A chemical analysis of his vital organs is being made. Mulvey said Oke Beschen, 34, a printer, who occupies a room next to that of Thorne, reported seeing the two women in a fourth-floor hallway about 7:45 a. m. (CST) June 19, the day of Thorne's death. Bearsville Group Insist Pupils' Welfare in Issue

Residents of the Bearsville school district who are in opposition to the district being annexed to the Onteora Central School District, avow they are interested only in the welfare of the pupils of the district and the taxpayers of the district and have no intention of entering into a controversy with others over the proposal.

Richard Jeffrey, spokesman for the group, said today the only interest the group had was to give the best facilities to the students and it was believed maintaining their own school was best.

'Push' Is Seen

Jeffrey said the group feels strongly that the issue had not been considered important enough at the annual school meeting to come up for discussion but that it now appears as if the State Commissioner of Education, District Superintendent and the Bearsville group is trying to push the thing through with undue pressure.

"Many people we have contacted will be away from town that weekend, which is not unusual for the July 4th weekend and in other instances people are engaged in business activities such as tourists homes etc., and do not feel free to leave their properties," said Jeffrey. He pointed out that the calling of the meeting for July 3 to make a decision as to the future of the school, was rather soon. More time should have been given before the referendum vote.

Questions Asked

Last evening Birge Simmons, Joseph Marr, Richard Jeffrey and Homer Fisher again held a meeting and "rather than make lengthy statements" propounded the following questions for the Bearsville district voters to consider:

1. Have the people with the petion to join Onteora told anyone that the Bearsville school was already closed?
2. Is it true that the Bearsville school is closed as stated?
3. Under existing law can the state close Bearsville school?
4. Did the majority of Bearsville high school children attend Kingston High School last year?
5. If Onteora will keep Bearsville school open, as stated, wouldn't a vote for Onteora only raise Bearsville taxes?
6. Is New York city working to get the state to lower New York city's taxes?
7. Would such action of New York city raise Onteora's tax rate?
8. Was the Onteora issue avoided at the annual school meeting?
9. Will the voters in Bearsville district have to travel to Onteora for school meetings if we join Onteora?
10. Will Onteora pay tuition for children now attending Kingston High School if we centralize?
11. Is the July 3 meeting an issue between Bearsville and Onteora only.
12. Was the date of the meeting set to enable the residents to vote intelligently.
13. Why is overcrowded Onteora working to get Bearsville?

Cement Workers Reject Settlement

Catskill, June 25 (AP)—Approximately 150 striking employes of the Alpha Portland Cement Co. here yesterday rejected a company settlement.

A spokesman for the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers Union, AFL, said the company had proposed an immediate five-cent-an-hour wage increase, plus 2½ times base pay for holidays.

He said the union also sought a second guaranteed five-cent-an-hour increase, effective next April 1, similar to one granted the neighboring North American Corp plant Monday, effective next May 1, about 215 employes there resumed work Tuesday morning.

Union members at another Catskill plant, Lehigh Portland Cement, have not yet voted on an offer. Other cement companies affected by the two-month-old strike are Universal-Atlas and Lone Star.

Monday's vote was the first break in a strike that has crippled cement production in the northeast and stalled work on numerous big construction projects.

The wage scale has ranged from $1.50 to $2 an hour.

Child Labor Project

Salem, Mass. (AP)—Beach-going youngsters have 1,500 tons of stand to move this summer and Salem officials think they'll do it with pails and shovels. Because of unusual tide conditions, Crane's beach in nearby Ipswich had too much sand. And because of lack of snow Salem's snow division was inactive. Thinking the sand would improve Salem's beaches, the snow crews hauled the sand and dumped it in piles above the flood tide mark. Now it's up to the children to spread it.

Alan Gilbert to Play In Finian's Rainbow

ALAN GILBERT

Woodstock, June 25—When Alan Gilbert steps out of the wings at the Woodstock Playhouse on the opening night of Finian's Rainbow, Friday, July 2, he will relive one of the big moments of his life. Seven years ago the young actor-singer made the same entrance in the same play. It was his first starring role and he faced a polite first-night audience in a London theatre.

"I was as nervous as a kid with his first recitation," Gilbert recalled the other day before starting rehearsals in Woodstock. "I had heard all the usual stories about the English — how they have no sense of humor, they're critical of Americans, they don't give." But none of those things are true. They fell for Finian's just as Broadway audiences did. We had a five-months run there."

Opens July 2

Gilbert remained in the cast as Woody Mahoney, the romantic lead, when the company returned for another engagement in New York. He has the same part in the Woodstock Playhouse production under the direction of Michael Howard. The musical satire will be seen nightly from July 2 through Sunday, July 11, with no performance Monday, July 5.

Gilbert, a dark-haired sixfooter, was educated at Northwestern University and the Juilliard and Mannes schools of music. He served with the Army Signal Corps in World War 2. Today, when not directing television, which takes up most of his time, he is involved in his hobby.

"I've just become the fond purchaser of a new Austin-Healey—a British racing sports car," he said. "It sounds like an expensive hobby, but I'm not going to let it be. I'm planning to race in the fall."

Gets First Chance

Gilbert got his first chance in the theatre in Something for the Boys, with Ethel Merman, after he got out of the army. Then he had small parts in Bloomer Girl and Billion Dollar Baby. He understudied the leading role of the young lieutenant in South Pacific for two years and played the part for six weeks when the star was ill. After night club appearances on the West Coast he returned to New York to act in A Tree Grows in Brooklyn with Shirley Booth.

For a while Gilbert gave up the theatre and lived in Woodstock, working in an executive position at the Rotron Manufacturing plant.

"I thought I'd have more security," he explained, "but I couldn't stay away from the entertainment business."

Taking leading roles with Gilbert in the Woodstock Playhouse offering of the summer will be Miss Susan Reed, Leonardo Cimino, Michael Lewin, Betty Lind, Bernard Kates and Heywood Hale Broun.

Boys Are Caught

taken from the Nadler car lot during the day of the theft and the boys went back for the car at night. Both Lt. Leonard and Sgt. Reilly said that questioning of the boys indicated that they and others had been involved in several other recent thefts in the city and the town of Ulster.

Other Burglaries

These included the theft of other automobiles and burglaries at gas stations and stores, the officers said. They had hidden the stolen Hudson temporarily at Lawton park, Leonard said. It was also indicated that the statements by the boys accounted for the recent theft of a car from the Martin-Moran garage on East Chester street. The car was recovered on Washington avenue with a run-down battery a few days ago.

Police also said that questioning of the boys revealed that among others involved in the recent series of thefts here in the town of Ulster was a boy who has been on parole. He was charged with other car thefts and burglaries in Kingston.

Rebels Mass . . .

dores, Camotan, Iguana, Quebrades, Entre Rios, York Olopa, Champons, El Estor and Vado Hondo.

"Radio Liberation," heard in neighboring El Salvador, said the rebels controlled the main highways and communications and would soon strangle the government forces into immobility through a shortage of fuel.

The government radio, on the other hand, declared army troops were advancing on all fronts, leaving "many dead and wounded" in their wake.

The army high command declared "a final blow" was being prepared against the rebels.

An army spokesman in Guatemala City said the back of the invasion had been broken and predicted the war would be over in about a week.

The spokesman said government forces won a major victory yesterday at Morales, one of the 16 towns claimed by the rebels.

Most observers here feel the rebel drive had bogged down and that failure of Guatemala's peasants to join in the uprising had thrown the invasion badly out of gear.

Compare Notes on Line of Playing

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Put yourself in the South seat, playing today's hand at four spades. You win the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts and must now decide on your second play. What do you do?

The correct play is to ruff a heart at once. You are not really sure why you do this, except that it cannot do any harm and it may provide for an end play of some kind if the play happens to develop in that direction. This is what actually happens.

Your next step is to lay down the ace of trumps, and you now discover that West has all of the missing trumps. This is a blow, since if you must lose two trump tricks, you can afford to lose only one trick in diamonds and clubs combined.

You continue by leading a club to dummy's king, and you lead a low diamond from dummy and successfully finesse the jack.

Now you lead the nine of clubs towards dummy. West must discard, since it would do him no good to use one of his sure trump tricks on your low club.

You let the nine of clubs ride to East's ten, and East is end-played. If East returns a club or a dimond, he gives you a free finesse. If he returns a heart, you can ruff in your own hand and discard a diamond from the dummy. No matter which suit East returns, he cannot defeat the contract.

If you had neglected to ruff dummy's heart at the second trick, you would have lost the game contract. East would be able to get out safely with a heart when he was put in with the ten of clubs. The end play would therefore be ineffective.

TOWARD A UNITED EUROPE

Slowly, but surely, a United States of Western Europe is emerging. All the reluctance and stalling over the European Defense Community cannot obscure this basis fact.

A new agreement among nations participating in the European Community for Coal and Steel will soon permit all skilled and semi-skilled coal and steel workers to seek and take work anywhere in Germany, France, Italy, Luxembourg, Belgium and the Netherlands. In other words, they will soon be as free to move from one of these countries to another as people in the United States can move from one state to another.

This is tremendous progress, for it signifies a lowering of the barriers that have kept these six leading nations of Europe separate from each other for hundreds of generations. The freedom of labor to live and work where it will constitutes a major principal of political integration. It will certainly decrease the rivalry and competing nationalism among these nations, for people in general cannot hate those with whom they have worked and lived.

The mounting success of the European Coal and Steel Community constitutes an endorsement for the frequently-heard view that political union must precede military integration in Europe. It indicates that the United States could better encourage European integration through the six-nation Community for Coal and Steel, and its political counterpart, the intergovernmental committee, than through the European Defense Community. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has called for a reappraisal of American policy as a result of the slow progress on the European Army. This reappraisal could perhaps best be achieved by emphasizing political and economic units like the Coal and Steel Community rather than the Army plan. Certainly progress in this direction is encouraging, and indicates that our policy of European integration has had considerable success.

A DIFFERENT REVOLUTION

Revolutions in Latin American countries are not uncommon. Too often they occur when a political leader is unable to muster enough votes to take over the government but can manage to control a large portion of the country's military strength. There is something different about the revolution in Guatemala, however.

It is always best for people to rid themselves of an undesirable government by peaceful means, whenever this is possible. It is characteristic of Communist tyranny, however, that once it is established it quickly moves to eliminate all possibility of the people turning it out by peaceful means. The government of Guatemala fell under the control of Communists and Communist sympathizers. In recent months the Red pattern there has become more and more apparent.

The Red tinted government has gradually become more and more anti-American and pro-Soviet Union. Opposition newspapers and critics have gradually been silenced. Recently civil liberties were suspended. Arms were purchased from behind the Iron Curtain and some observers believe that the weapons were not delivered to the army but rather to groups which could be counted on to protect the government.

Those who are participating in the rebellion are convinced that they had no other recourse and it is difficult to disagree with them. It is hoped that if they succeed in deposing the pro-Communists they will establish a government of laws and justice and will take steps to improve the lot of the poor and suffering people. Such a government would have an excellent chance to succeed and make of Guatemala a country capable of commanding respect of itself and of the other countries of the world.

THE MIGHTY FALL

The mighty have fallen. In Paris, noted all over the world for its fine restaurants, one of the most notable has been Larue's. It has now found costs too great for it to continue, and will give up its restaurant service, and instead turn into a snack bar.

For a lot of Frenchmen such as an epoch-making change is more calamitous than the fall of many a government.

TOM DEWEY'S CANDIDACY

Between now and the Republican Convention in New York State, reports will be constant concerning Tom Dewey's candidacy for a fourth term as Governor. Tom Dewey is regarded as a competent administrator; he is also recognized as a ruthless politician.

The Republican Party in New York State is split into factions which reflect the prolonged tenure of Dewey and his failure to raise up a successor. If Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., is the Democratic candidate, as he is at this moment likely to be, the Republicans will have to match him with a man of equal attractiveness to New York City voters or of sufficient attractiveness upstate to offset the Roosevelt vote in New York City. At the moment, no Republican name other than Dewey's presents itself for this equation.

Dewey absolutely controls the Republican Party machine in New York State. During his three terms as governor he has managed to eliminate every strong competitive figure. The recent race track scandals assisted him to rid himself of Republican county leaders who were sufficiently strong to challenge his absolutism. Some of these leaders were his close political friends, but he threw them over without even raising his eyebrows. Tom Dewey can always find moralistic grounds for doing what he wants to do.

New York City is the weakest Republican area in the state. It is lacking in leadership in the five counties that comprise it. New York County, which is the heart of the city, only sends one Republican representative to Congress, Frederic R. Coudert, Jr. Jacob Javits goes to Congress as a nominal Republican but he is actually controlled by David Dubinsky's Liberal Party, as his voting record shows. The political organization in this county is split into factions, running from Left Wingers to Conservatives.

A grass-roots Republican movement has been developing in New York. Its strength was exemplified by a meeting held at the National Republican Club under the leadership of Mrs. May Davie, to give William F. Buckley, Jr., an opportunity to deliver an address on his book, "McCarthy and His Enemies," the Women's National Republican Club having rejected him. The overflow on the street and in Bryant Park opposite was larger than had ever been witnessed at a Republican meeting in New York. This was a demonstration of opposition to local Republican leadership and particularly to Thomas E. Dewey.

Should Dewey really decide not to run for governor, the likely candidate would be Senator Irving Ives who has the advantage of inviting less opposition from the labor unions than other Republican aspirants. On the other hand, Ives must take on some of the grass-roots opposition to Dewey.

Were the Democrats to nominate either James A. Farley or Judge Charles Froessel, many Republicans could vote Democratic as an expression of opposition to Dewey or stay away from the polls as a protest. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., could present a problem of conscience. It will be difficult for many Republicans who would prefer not to vote for Dewey to take a single step which might insure the election of Roosevelt.

The major antagonism to Tom Dewey goes back to the 1952 Republican convention when he led the fight against Senator Robert A. Taft. The vehemence of Dewey's opposition to Taft has never been acknowledged by Taft supporters as within reasonable political permissibility. Since Senator Taft's death, his followers have come close to developing into a cult, with the words, "Thou Shalt Not Steal" as an emotional stimulant. Taft men blame Tom Dewey for this slogan. They say he could have stopped its use as a convention slogan. As absurd as it may be, they also say that Senator Taft really died because of this slogan.

Those who do not live in this state cannot realize how many groups within the Republican Party who did not support Taft in 1952 now say that they did and make a fetish of it. And, of course, there is the larger McCarthy following, particularly among the Irish Catholics, who are resentful that as a phase of the anti-McCarthy campaign, the religious issue has been raised. They, too, express an opposition to Dewey because the testimony at the hearing shows that what is referred to as the Dewey Clique in the Eisenhower Administration engineered the "Get Joe" effort.

It will be an exciting election if the candidates are Dewey and Roosevelt.

RESPIRATORY INFECTION IN OLD AGE

One of the annoying conditions that distress elderly men and women is what we often speak of as a chronic respiratory infection. This infection is not usually sever enough to be dangerous but it can disturb sleep from almost constant coughing.

In general, respiratory infections in the elderly come into three main groups:

(1) Infection in the upper respiratory region, with or without spread to the lungs.

(2) Respiratory infection with bronchospasm (contraction of the muscular coat of the bronchial tubes).

(3) Respiatory infection associated with heart failure.

The respiratory infection, with or without spread to the lungs, is potentially dangerous to the elderly, and the risk of spread to the lungs requires stronger measures to combat it than in the young adult.

Respiratory infections associated with bronchospasm often resemble attacks of asthma. Similarly, some forms of heart failure, brought on by infection, may be difficult to diagnose; in fact, all too often congestive heart failure in the elderly is brought on by a respiratory infection.

The association of heart failure with respiratory infection is so common in the elderly that all patients with such an infection should have a very careful examintion of the heart. Physical examination of the chest does not always give the answer of what is the real diagnosis. For example, elderlly patients may have difficulty in breathing, rapid heart beat, cyanosis (a blue tinge to the skin), and poor chest expansion with a respiratory infection, whether or not they have heart failure. In fact, when older patients have a respiratory infection (respiration is the act or process of breathing) a complete diagnosis may be very difficult to reach in the first 48 hours.

Because of this association of respiratory infection with heart failure in the elderly, treatment should be very careful, aimed not only at combating the infection and treating each symptom as it arises, but also giving careful attention to the cardiovascular system (heart and blood vessels), making sure they have sufficient fluids or liquids given them, and the avoidance of insufficient oxygen. In fact, if there is any question that they are not getting enough oxygen, they should be sent to the hospital.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, who is quite a salesman himself, turns out to be just another pushover for a good salesman's line.

Proof of this has been demonstrated by 16-year-old Beth Weinstein of Schenectady, New York. She is the Junior Achievement Award winner in a national contest to find the best kid salesman in the U. S. She has just won a $500 scholarship in a contest with 1800 other young salesmen.

The product she sold Secretary Weeks was a $1.98 knife holder. This is the paragraph in her sales letter that overcame Secretary Weeks' low sales resistance:

"What with all the arguing, bickering and petty politicking going on every day, wouldn't it be a good idea to hang my knife rack where our statesmen in Washington could put away their knives and concentrate on working for the common good of our country—say, working on world peace instead of on television charts that tell how many times David Schine had a pass from the Army?"

Note: Secretary Weeks isn't going to hang the knife rack in his office for the statesmen to park their cutlery in, however. In mailing his check to Miss Weinstein he wrote:

"You can be sure that the knife rack will be put to good use in the kitchen of our home."

Speaking of salesmanship, the 20-cent "Infant Care" pamphlet still remains the No. 1 best-seller on the list of the thousands of publications of the U. S. Government Printing Office.

Since it was first issued by the U. S. Children's Bureau in 1913, over nine million copies of "Infant Care" have been sold. It has been run through eight editions and has been revised for every reprint.

Other best-sellers on the GPO list are: "Prenatal Care," over four million copies; "Your Child From One to Six," over three million copies, and "Your Child From Six to Twelve," one million.

Rep. Dwight L. Rogers, (D.-Fla.), has introduced a resolution in the House to prohibit television of all congressional hearings. In making his proposal, Representative Rogers said:

"It is not a healthy situation for our people to daily look upon the recent 'show' and conclude that all such workings of congressional committees are carried on in any such manner."

When Sam Rayburn of Texas was Speaker of the House," says Representative Rogers, "he refused to admit the television of committee hearings. His wisdom in so doing has been demonstrated most forcibly by what has been displayed in the Army-McCarthy hearings in the past eight weeks."

What the fascination of these Army-McCarthy hearings was—that they could hold so many people, bug-eyed and hypnotized in front of TV sets, day after day—has puzzled many psychologists.

The hearings were a fight—and everybody loves a fight. They were full of surprises—and people like to be surprised. They were unrehearsed and perfectly natural. The dramatic interest was real and not artificial.

But the one psychological stimulus that seemed to hold most observers was that they put themselves right around the hearing table as participants.

This shows up in the post-mortems, when people say, "If I was McCarthy, I'd have done so and so." Or "if I had have been Symington, I'd have socked him." Or "Why didn't Mundt make 'em answer?" Or. "Jenkins was too soft on this." Or, "Why didn't Welch ask him that?"

Any dramatist who can make this audience feel that they are actors on the stage has a sure hit.

After President Eisenhower finished speaking to the National Citizens for Eisenhower conference in Washington, another speaker got in a few words which drew wild applause from the enthusiastic Ike supporters.

As James L. Murphy, chairman of the national citizens' group started to say something over the mike, a booming voice broke in demanding: "Wait a minute, Jim. Let's all say who we want for President in 1956."

Everyone cheered. The man who had made the suggestion was Eisenhower's most ardent fan—Marty Snyder, General Eisenhower's mess sergeant in World War II. Marty is the fellow who staged that famous one-man demonstration for Eisenhower at Chicago in 1948.

Now he's supposed to have political ambitions of his own. He wants to run for Congress in New York's 20th district.

The incumbent congressman is Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.

A recent brag by the 45th Division Association, on its 511 days in combat during World War II, was accompanied by a resolution, printed in the Congressional Record, recommending that the commander of this infantry outfit be made a permanent member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

This has now drawn a reply from Quantico, Va., Marine Corps base.

"Please inform the 45th Infantry," it says, "that we of the United States Marine Corps are in deep sympathy with them for their 511 days in combat. Since we were used to doing the same job in three or four days, our time in combat couldn't be as high as theirs. So using their time as the basis for selecting their CO for the JCS is unfair to decent combat men."

Eden Address Is Regarded as Having Alienated Many Persons, at Least in Congress

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 25—Anthony Eden, the British foreign secretary, is a very adroit diplomat, but he should have read that book about "How to Win Friends and Influence People" before he made his speech Wednesday night in the House of Commons, on the eve of his conferences with President Eisenhower.

For if a single address ever alienated more persons in a single country—and particularly in a national legislature—than did Mr. Eden's address as it was read by most of the members of the Congress of the United States, no one has ever called attention to such a destructive utterance before.

Probably nobody will be more surprised than Mr. Eden to learn of this reaction. For the British leaders, like our own, usually have their eyes fixed on what their own constituency wants to hear and do not always take into account how their words might sound to persons overseas.

The difficulty is not personal—it is a matter of national differences. The sad truth is that the popular sentiment in Great Britain is against firmness in dealing with the Communists and now leans toward making a deal with Moscow despite the tragic record of violated pledges and non-cooperation which has characterized the Soviet policy since the close of World War 2.

It comes as a bit of a shock to the American sense of morality, if not to the principle of consistency in international affairs, to read such glowing tributes rendered by Mr. Eden to Chou En-Lai, the premier of Red China and Foreign Minister Molotov of Soviet Russia on their work at the Geneva conference, and to note the studied omission of any reference to the U. S. secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, who spent a considerable time with the British foreign secretary in the opening days of the conference trying to impress upon him the American viewpoint.

Also, it is depressing to find the foreign secretary brushing off altogether any mention of the terrible crime of the Red China government in committing a flagrant act of aggression in Korea, which was condemned by a formal resolution of the United Nations.

What Mr. Eden has forgotten is that an idealistic nation, known as the United States of America, sent its troops more than 5,000 miles to a distant battlefield in Korea, suffered casualties of more than 140,000 and is technically at war today with the Red Chinese aggressor. But Mr. Eden nevertheless berates American diplomats for declining to take the blood-covered hands of the Red China premier in an enthusiastic fraternization at Geneva such as Mr. Eden accepted.

Mr. Eden is risking a great deal by his carelessness of speech, even though obviously he was trying to persuade a "peace at any price" Parliament in London that he was not coming to America to alter its policy of a deal with Moscow—something which seems to have taken hold of both the Conservative and the Labor party in Britain. For what Mr. Eden is really doing—though he may not realize it—is telling the American people that the principle of collective security cannot be used in southeast Asia unless the enemy agrees and that Red China, which has supported aggression in Indochina, is more worthy of his sympathetic attention than the viewpoint of the United States government.

This is the quick way to breed isolationism in America and to cut off congressional aid to allied governments, mistaken as both developments would be. Public opinion, however, in America is influenced by just such things, and the speech of Mr. Eden cannot be erased by future statements couched in friendlier terms. In the end Mr. Eden did play a much more cordial tune.

"Everybody in this country," he said, "or almost everybody in it, believes that understanding between us, the British Commonwealth and the United States, is the foundation of world peace. It is in that spirit that we are asked to go across the Atlantic. I think the committee's message tonight (committee of the whole of the British Parliament) may be described as being 'do all you can to have the best relations with the United States, but do not forget what the House of Commons wants you to do'—what our American friends might call a tough assignment."

It is truly a "tough assignment" to carry out the "peace at any price" policy of the British Parliament and to ask this country nevertheless to keep on drafting its sons to help protect British colonialism in southeast Asia when there's trouble or to send American divisions overseas to fight the Communist enemy in Europe whenever Moscow's evil rulers decide to end the dream of "peaceful coexistence" which the British foreign secretary has presented as the basis for world policy despite everything that has happened before.

It will be realistically asked why, if Mr. Eden has any evidence of a change in Moscow's evil purposes and policies of infiltration and deception, he did not reveal it to all the other diplomats who attended the Geneva Conference. The fact is he has no such evidence.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 24—At the dedication of the new flagpole at the Father Duffy monument right in the heart of the somewhat tawdry Broadway area by the Catholic War Veterans, George M. Cohan, Jr., was called forth to sing his father's wonderful old patriotic song, "It's A Grand Old Flag." This he did with much gusto and the crowd gave him a big response. But I was thinking privately back to the time when the song was current and fault-finding patrioteers wanted Cohan boiled in oil for referring to the stars and stripes as a "rag." Of course, George had meant no offense, for he was a very patriotic little man, but the song had momentum by now and he couldn't change it because obviously he had used the phrase "a high-flying rag" to rhyme with "It's a Grand Old Flag." Nothing came of it and the song waned, but George came back with a tremendous crash called "Over There" which was the "Tipperary" of the Americans in the first war.

I came to know Cohan quite well and once asked him if it were true that he had knocked off this number in 45 minutes as gossip had it. He said yes, and as we were then in Cincinnati for the World Series, which turned out to be a fake, I asked him to bat out something like it for the United Press. He said such inspirations didn't come every 45 minutes, and declined. I have rather liked Irving Berlin's "God Bless America" but I think "Over There" was better because it was a wonderful march whereas Berlin's piece is more of a hymn and takes a good deal of concentration and doing. Yet, I think it is better than "The Star Spangled Banner" because few voices can sing that one.

Just as a parenthetical complaint of minor degree, I object to a hot lick affected by professionals at national conventions, World Series openings and inaugurations, in which they refer to "that" Star Spangled Banner. Dammit all, the word is not "that" but "the." And when crass hams speak of "that Star Spangled Banner" it sounds to me as though they mean "that good old ever-lovin' Star Spangled Banner." There ought to be a law to make them follow copy. Moreover Berlin's air is original, I suppose, whereas the music of our national anthem is a swipe, although we need not take on about that because so is the British "God Save the Queen."

Well, when George, Jr., stepped down, I introduced myself and told him I had known his dad in the good old days, as a million others have done, and also had borne his pall. I had covered the great actors' strike of 1920 from which the Actors' Equity Association emerged and George, Jr., said, yes, the old man had lost that one. Well, he did, but I didn't throw in with the many actors of the time who abused him because I knew he was very generous and had been very kind to some of the people who were now skinning him alive.

There was no doubt, however, that the actors had been getting a terrible deal and the settlement contained a good deal of revenge along with the reform. They had never been paid for rehearsals and almost all the talent below the stars were poorly paid and subject to destitution without a minute's notice.

The chorus girls were particularly wretched and it was a strange sight around the strike headquarters as these young women, most of them just kids, milled and fumbled trying to find some way of being helpful. But Cohan and his whole family had bucked the same game, suffering the same dirty deals, privations and unpleasant conditions backstage for years and he thought they all ought to take the same chances and succeed if they could as he had done.

Eddie Cantor was working for Ziegfeld and when he went out Ziegfeld called him all kinds of an ingrate and told me the kid had absolutely no talent but just some momentary popularity for which he, Ziegfeld, was paying him $750 a week. Frank Bacon was working in a show called "Lightnin'" and when that one closed the pickets went along Broadway, where there is not one single live show today nor has there been for years, brandishing big show-cards rading "Lightnin' Has Struck." Ned Sparks was the busiest worker at the headquarters and a chorus girl named Mary Astor was a

Dewey absolutely controls the Republican Party machine in New York State. During his three terms as governor he has managed to eliminate every strong competitive figure. The recent race track scandals assisted him to rid himself of Republican county leaders who were sufficiently strong to challenge his absolutism. Some of these leaders were his close political friends, but he threw them over without even raising his eyebrows. Tom Dewey can always find moralistic grounds for doing what he wants to do.

New York City is the weakest Republican area in the state. It is lacking in leadership in the five counties that comprise it. New York County, which is the heart of the city, only sends one Republican representative to Congress, Frederic R. Coudert, Jr. Jacob Javits goes to Congress as a nominal Republican but he is actually controlled by David Dubinsky's Liberal Party, as his voting record shows. The political organization in this county is split into factions, running from Left Wingers to Conservatives.

A grass-roots Republican movement has been developing in New York. Its strength was exemplified by a meeting held at the National Republican Club under the leadership of Mrs. May Davie, to give William F. Buckley, Jr., an opportunity to deliver an address on his book, "McCarthy and His Enemies," the Women's National Republican Club having rejected him. The overflow on the street and in Bryant Park opposite was larger than had ever been witnessed at a Republican meeting in New York. This was a demonstration of opposition to local Republican leadership and particularly to Thomas E. Dewey.

Should Dewey really decide not to run for governor, the likely candidate would be Senator Irving Ives who has the advantage of inviting less opposition from the labor unions than other Republican aspirants. On the other hand, Ives must take on some of the grass-roots opposition to Dewey.

Were the Democrats to nominate either James A. Farley or Judge Charles Froessel, many Republicans could vote Democratic as an expression of opposition to Dewey or stay away from the polls as a protest. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., could present a problem of conscience. It will be difficult for many Republicans who would prefer not to vote for Dewey to take a single step which might insure the election of Roosevelt.

The major antagonism to Tom Dewey goes back to the 1952 Republican convention when he led the fight against Senator Robert A. Taft. The vehemence of Dewey's opposition to Taft has never been acknowledged by Taft supporters as within reasonable political permissibility. Since Senator Taft's death, his followers have come close to developing into a cult, with the words, "Thou Shalt Not Steal" as an emotional stimulant. Taft men blame Tom Dewey for this slogan. They say he could have stopped its use as a convention slogan. As absurd as it may be, they also say that Senator Taft really died because of this slogan.

Those who do not live in this state cannot realize how many groups within the Republican Party who did not support Taft in 1952 now say that they did and make a fetish of it. And, of course, there is the larger McCarthy following, particularly among the Irish Catholics, who are resentful that as a phase of the anti-McCarthy campaign, the religious issue has been raised. They, too, express an opposition to Dewey because the testimony at the hearing shows that what is referred to as the Dewey Clique in the Eisenhower Administration engineered the "Get Joe" effort.

It will be an exciting election if the candidates are Dewey and Roosevelt.

That Body of Yours

RESPIRATORY INFECTION IN OLD AGE

One of the annoying conditions that distress elderly men and women is what we often speak of as a chronic respiratory infection. This infection is not usually sever enough to be dangerous but it can disturb sleep from almost constant coughing.

In general, respiratory infections in the elderly come into three main groups:

(1) Infection in the upper respiratory region, with or without spread to the lungs.

(2) Respiratory infection with bronchospasm (contraction of the muscular coat of the bronchial tubes).

(3) Respiatory infection associated with heart failure.

The respiratory infection, with or without spread to the lungs, is potentially dangerous to the elderly, and the risk of spread to the lungs requires stronger measures to combat it than in the young adult.

Respiratory infections associated with bronchospasm often resemble attacks of asthma. Similarly, some forms of heart failure, brought on by infection, may be difficult to diagnose; in fact, all too often congestive heart failure in the elderly is brought on by a respiratory infection.

The association of heart failure with respiratory infection is so common in the elderly that all patients with such an infection should have a very careful examintion of the heart. Physical examination of the chest does not always give the answer of what is the real diagnosis. For example, elderlly patients may have difficulty in breathing, rapid heart beat, cyanosis (a blue tinge to the skin), and poor chest expansion with a respiratory infection, whether or not they have heart failure. In fact, when older patients have a respiratory infection (respiration is the act or process of breathing) a complete diagnosis may be very difficult to reach in the first 48 hours.

Because of this association of respiratory infection with heart failure in the elderly, treatment should be very careful, aimed not only at combating the infection and treating each symptom as it arises, but also giving careful attention to the cardiovascular system (heart and blood vessels), making sure they have sufficient fluids or liquids given them, and the avoidance of insufficient oxygen. In fact, if there is any question that they are not getting enough oxygen, they should be sent to the hospital.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, who is quite a salesman himself, turns out to be just another pushover for a good salesman's line.

Proof of this has been demonstrated by 16-year-old Beth Weinstein of Schenectady, New York. She is the Junior Achievement Award winner in a national contest to find the best kid salesman in the U. S. She has just won a $500 scholarship in a contest with 1800 other young salesmen.

The product she sold Secretary Weeks was a $1.98 knife holder. This is the paragraph in her sales letter that overcame Secretary Weeks' low sales resistance:

"What with all the arguing, bickering and petty politicking going on every day, wouldn't it be a good idea to hang my knife rack where our statesmen in Washington could put away their knives and concentrate on working for the common good of our country—say, working on world peace instead of on television charts that tell how many times David Schine had a pass from the Army?"

Note: Secretary Weeks isn't going to hang the knife rack in his office for the statesmen to park their cutlery in, however. In mailing his check to Miss Weinstein he wrote:

"You can be sure that the knife rack will be put to good use in the kitchen of our home."

Speaking of salesmanship, the 20-cent "Infant Care" pamphlet still remains the No. 1 best-seller on the list of the thousands of publications of the U. S. Government Printing Office.

Since it was first issued by the U. S. Children's Bureau in 1913, over nine million copies of "Infant Care" have been sold. It has been run through eight editions and has been revised for every reprint.

Other best-sellers on the GPO list are: "Prenatal Care," over four million copies; "Your Child From One to Six," over three million copies, and "Your Child From Six to Twelve," one million.

Rep. Dwight L. Rogers, (D.-Fla.), has introduced a resolution in the House to prohibit television of all congressional hearings. In making his proposal, Representative Rogers said:

"It is not a healthy situation for our people to daily look upon the recent 'show' and conclude that all such workings of congressional committees are carried on in any such manner."

When Sam Rayburn of Texas was Speaker of the House," says Representative Rogers, "he refused to admit the television of committee hearings. His wisdom in so doing has been demonstrated most forcibly by what has been displayed in the Army-McCarthy hearings in the past eight weeks."

What the fascination of these Army-McCarthy hearings was—that they could hold so many people, bug-eyed and hypnotized in front of TV sets, day after day—has puzzled many psychologists.

The hearings were a fight—and everybody loves a fight. They were full of surprises—and people like to be surprised. They were unrehearsed and perfectly natural. The dramatic interest was real and not artificial.

But the one psychological stimulus that seemed to hold most observers was that they put themselves right around the hearing table as participants.

This shows up in the post-mortems, when people say, "If I was McCarthy, I'd have done so and so." Or "if I had have been Symington, I'd have socked him." Or "Why didn't Mundt make 'em answer?" Or. "Jenkins was too soft on this." Or, "Why didn't Welch ask him that?"

Any dramatist who can make this audience feel that they are actors on the stage has a sure hit.

After President Eisenhower finished speaking to the National Citizens for Eisenhower conference in Washington, another speaker got in a few words which drew wild applause from the enthusiastic Ike supporters.

As James L. Murphy, chairman of the national citizens' group started to say something over the mike, a booming voice broke in demanding: "Wait a minute, Jim. Let's all say who we want for President in 1956."

Everyone cheered. The man who had made the suggestion was Eisenhower's most ardent fan—Marty Snyder, General Eisenhower's mess sergeant in World War II. Marty is the fellow who staged that famous one-man demonstration for Eisenhower at Chicago in 1948.

Now he's supposed to have political ambitions of his own. He wants to run for Congress in New York's 20th district.

The incumbent congressman is Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.

A recent brag by the 45th Division Association, on its 511 days in combat during World War II, was accompanied by a resolution, printed in the Congressional Record, recommending that the commander of this infantry outfit be made a permanent member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

This has now drawn a reply from Quantico, Va., Marine Corps base.

"Please inform the 45th Infantry," it says, "that we of the United States Marine Corps are in deep sympathy with them for their 511 days in combat. Since we were used to doing the same job in three or four days, our time in combat couldn't be as high as theirs. So using their time as the basis for selecting their CO for the JCS is unfair to decent combat men."

Eden Address Is Regarded as Having Alienated Many Persons, at Least in Congress

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 25—Anthony Eden, the British foreign secretary, is a very adroit diplomat, but he should have read that book about "How to Win Friends and Influence People" before he made his speech Wednesday night in the House of Commons, on the eve of his conferences with President Eisenhower.

For if a single address ever alienated more persons in a single country—and particularly in a national legislature—than did Mr. Eden's address as it was read by most of the members of the Congress of the United States, no one has ever called attention to such a destructive utterance before.

Probably nobody will be more surprised than Mr. Eden to learn of this reaction. For the British leaders, like our own, usually have their eyes fixed on what their own constituency wants to hear and do not always take into account how their words might sound to persons overseas.

The difficulty is not personal—it is a matter of national differences. The sad truth is that the popular sentiment in Great Britain is against firmness in dealing with the Communists and now leans toward making a deal with Moscow despite the tragic record of violated pledges and non-cooperation which has characterized the Soviet policy since the close of World War 2.

It comes as a bit of a shock to the American sense of morality, if not to the principle of consistency in international affairs, to read such glowing tributes rendered by Mr. Eden to Chou En-Lai, the premier of Red China and Foreign Minister Molotov of Soviet Russia on their work at the Geneva conference, and to note the studied omission of any reference to the U. S. secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, who spent a considerable time with the British foreign secretary in the opening days of the conference trying to impress upon him the American viewpoint.

Also, it is depressing to find the foreign secretary brushing off altogether any mention of the terrible crime of the Red China government in committing a flagrant act of aggression in Korea, which was condemned by a formal resolution of the United Nations.

What Mr. Eden has forgotten is that an idealistic nation, known as the United States of America, sent its troops more than 5,000 miles to a distant battlefield in Korea, suffered casualties of more than 140,000 and is technically at war today with the Red Chinese aggressor. But Mr. Eden nevertheless berates American diplomats for declining to take the blood-covered hands of the Red China premier in an enthusiastic fraternization at Geneva such as Mr. Eden accepted.

Mr. Eden is risking a great deal by his carelessness of speech, even though obviously he was trying to persuade a "peace at any price" Parliament in London that he was not coming to America to alter its policy of a deal with Moscow—something which seems to have taken hold of both the Conservative and the Labor party in Britain. For what Mr. Eden is really doing—though he may not realize it—is telling the American people that the principle of collective security cannot be used in southeast Asia unless the enemy agrees and that Red China, which has supported aggression in Indochina, is more worthy of his sympathetic attention than the viewpoint of the United States government.

This is the quick way to breed isolationism in America and to cut off congressional aid to allied governments, mistaken as both developments would be. Public opinion, however, in America is influenced by just such things, and the speech of Mr. Eden cannot be erased by future statements couched in friendlier terms. In the end Mr. Eden did play a much more cordial tune.

"Everybody in this country," he said, "or almost everybody in it, believes that understanding between us, the British Commonwealth and the United States, is the foundation of world peace. It is in that spirit that we are asked to go across the Atlantic. I think the committee's message tonight (committee of the whole of the British Parliament) may be described as being 'do all you can to have the best relations with the United States, but do not forget what the House of Commons wants you to do'—what our American friends might call a tough assignment."

It is truly a "tough assignment" to carry out the "peace at any price" policy of the British Parliament and to ask this country nevertheless to keep on drafting its sons to help protect British colonialism in southeast Asia when there's trouble or to send American divisions overseas to fight the Communist enemy in Europe whenever Moscow's evil rulers decide to end the dream of "peaceful coexistence" which the British foreign secretary has presented as the basis for world policy despite everything that has happened before.

It will be realistically asked why, if Mr. Eden has any evidence of a change in Moscow's evil purposes and policies of infiltration and deception, he did not reveal it to all the other diplomats who attended the Geneva Conference. The fact is he has no such evidence.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 24—At the dedication of the new flagpole at the Father Duffy monument right in the heart of the somewhat tawdry Broadway area by the Catholic War Veterans, George M. Cohan, Jr., was called forth to sing his father's wonderful old patriotic song, "It's A Grand Old Flag." This he did with much gusto and the crowd gave him a big response. But I was thinking privately back to the time when the song was current and fault-finding patrioteers wanted Cohan boiled in oil for referring to the stars and stripes as a "rag." Of course, George had meant no offense, for he was a very patriotic little man, but the song had momentum by now and he couldn't change it because obviously he had used the phrase "a high-flying rag" to rhyme with "It's a Grand Old Flag." Nothing came of it and the song waned, but George came back with a tremendous crash called "Over There" which was the "Tipperary" of the Americans in the first war.

I came to know Cohan quite well and once asked him if it were true that he had knocked off this number in 45 minutes as gossip had it. He said yes, and as we were then in Cincinnati for the World Series, which turned out to be a fake, I asked him to bat out something like it for the United Press. He said such inspirations didn't come every 45 minutes, and declined. I have rather liked Irving Berlin's "God Bless America" but I think "Over There" was better because it was a wonderful march whereas Berlin's piece is more of a hymn and takes a good deal of concentration and doing. Yet, I think it is better than "The Star Spangled Banner" because few voices can sing that one.

Just as a parenthetical complaint of minor degree, I object to a hot lick affected by professionals at national conventions, World Series openings and inaugurations, in which they refer to "that" Star Spangled Banner. Dammit all, the word is not "that" but "the." And when crass hams speak of "that Star Spangled Banner" it sounds to me as though they mean "that good old ever-lovin' Star Spangled Banner." There ought to be a law to make them follow copy. Moreover Berlin's air is original, I suppose, whereas the music of our national anthem is a swipe, although we need not take on about that because so is the British "God Save the Queen."

Well, when George, Jr., stepped down, I introduced myself and told him I had known his dad in the good old days, as a million others have done, and also had borne his pall. I had covered the great actors' strike of 1920 from which the Actors' Equity Association emerged and George, Jr., said, yes, the old man had lost that one. Well, he did, but I didn't throw in with the many actors of the time who abused him because I knew he was very generous and had been very kind to some of the people who were now skinning him alive.

There was no doubt, however, that the actors had been getting a terrible deal and the settlement contained a good deal of revenge along with the reform. They had never been paid for rehearsals and almost all the talent below the stars were poorly paid and subject to destitution without a minute's notice.

The chorus girls were particularly wretched and it was a strange sight around the strike headquarters as these young women, most of them just kids, milled and fumbled trying to find some way of being helpful. But Cohan and his whole family had bucked the same game, suffering the same dirty deals, privations and unpleasant conditions backstage for years and he thought they all ought to take the same chances and succeed if they could as he had done.

Eddie Cantor was working for Ziegfeld and when he went out Ziegfeld called him all kinds of an ingrate and told me the kid had absolutely no talent but just some momentary popularity for which he, Ziegfeld, was paying him $750 a week. Frank Bacon was working in a show called "Lightnin'" and when that one closed the pickets went along Broadway, where there is not one single live show today nor has there been for years, brandishing big show-cards rading "Lightnin' Has Struck." Ned Sparks was the busiest worker at the headquarters and a chorus girl named Mary Astor was a

George Cohan was always very pleasant to newspaper people not only, I think, because he liked good publicity but because they were a hard-bitten, put-upon lot for the most part. I got $27.50 when I hit town from St. Louis in 1915 and resumed with the UP for $40 a week after the first war. Frank Ward O'Malley, a great newspaper writer with the old Sun, once wrote that he was standing with Cohan in a saloon while a seedy reporter who was always "going to" write a great play bored Cohan with a narration of the plot and action. When Cohan had had all he could take, he picked up his change, turned to the guy and said: "That is a great play and this bar is a great place to write it."

Five Get Diplomas At Final Exercises

Tillson, June 24 — Graduation exercises of the Tillson School took place in the auditorium of the school Wednesday evening. Members of the graduating class were Judith Clark, Joanne Engert, Katherine Tsontarides, William Wakeley and Jean Wenzel. Joanne Engert was valedictorian and Katherine Tsontarides salutatorian.

With members of the graduating class on the stage, students of the third through seventh grades marched into the auditorium. The program opened with a salute to the American flag and the Star Spangled Banner was sung. The Rev. Albert H. Shultis rendered the invocation.

The program continued as follows:

Program Listed

Salutatory, Katherine Tsontarides; poem, The Flag Is Passing By, Jean Wenzel; Detour—Road Closed, Judith Clark; giftorian speech, William Wakeley; piano solo, Joanne Engert; poem, America for Me, Katherine Tsontarides; We Will Remember, Jean Wenzel; vocal selection by the eighth grade, Brahms Lullaby; address by guest speaker, Richard B. Talleur of Kingston; class will, Judith Clark; class prophecy, Katherine Tsontarides; commencement song by the entire school; valedictory, Joanne Engert. Prizes were awarded numerous students of the entire school for the Tillson School Association, represented by their acting president, Mrs. Nathaniel Phillips. Class pins and diplomas were awarded by Kenneth Clark, president of the Tillson School Board of Education. The program closed with the song America the Beautiful and benediction by the Rev. Albert H. Shultis.

In her valedictory address, Joanne Engert pointed out that "our work has taught us a number of important facts: that an education is our most valuable asset, that it is obtained only by hard study; there is no royal road to learning, but an education brings the best reward life can offer." She added that ". . . learning is a light that brightens the path to success, and that wisdom is more precious than rubies. Whatever we may accomplish in life, let us ever strive to be an honor to the teachers and to this school which gave us the firm foundation for our higher education."

Speaks on 3-D Life

Talleur spoke on the subject, Living a 3-D Life, and pointed out three words, all starting with "D" that the graduates should take with them and keep for life. The three words were "dreams," "decisions" and "deeds."

Talleur spoke briefly about the great men who had dreams and strived to make them come true, such as Thomas Jefferson, who wrote the Declaration of Independence. "He dreamed of a free people in a free land, with liberty and justice for all," Talleur said. "And his dreams came true." He told the class that it was up to them to help make their dreams of a better world come true.

He then went on to explain the importance of the second word, "decision" and advised the class to be careful and make right decisions. He spoke briefly of "deeds." . . . good deeds, unselfish deeds, neighborly and kindly deeds. . . ." It wasn't necessarily the big deeds that were most important, Talleur said, but it was important to do the little deeds daily and do them well so that they could later accomplish the bigger deeds. "The world needs great minds; but it also needs men and women who will do the simple little deeds of everyday life and do them well," Talleur pointed out.

He congratulated the class and told them "we hope you will "live in deeds."

Approximately 200 people attended the exercises. The stage was beautifully decorated with trellises covered with roses, and bouquets of flowers. It was the most colorful graduation exercise to take place at Tillson and the first since the new additions had been constructed.

Two Are Arrested

New York, June 25 (AP)—Two teen-age youths were arrested in Central Park early today and charged with attempting to rape a 55-year-old woman who battled the pair until police aid arrived. Police said the woman, Mrs. Mary Gillen of (44 West 96th street) Manhattan, was on her way home after walking her husband, an elevator operator, to work. She was accosted by the youths near the West Drive and 90th street and one, showing a knife, forced her to go into the park with them.

CONSTIPATED?

Then read how Frank Della Penna of Holyoke, Mass. gets real relief!

"I'd been troubled with constipation for quite a while. But most of the laxatives I'd tried were either too harsh or too slow.

"Then, I heard about Sal Hepatica from a friend—and now I'm sold on it for life! I tell you, it really does the trick. Now when I get that logy, constipated feeling in the evening, I take Sal Hepatica a half hour before dinner, and I feel fine again by bedtime!"

Yes, take sparkling Sal Hepatica before breakfast and feel fine again . . . usually within an hour. Or, take in the evening one-half hour before supper and feel fine again by bedtime! Sweetens sour stomach, too! So keep Sal Hepatica handy in your medicine chest.

George Cohan was always very pleasant to newspaper people not only, I think, because he liked good publicity but because they were a hard-bitten, put-upon lot for the most part. I got $27.50 when I hit town from St. Louis in 1915 and resumed with the UP for $40 a week after the first war. Frank Ward O'Malley, a great newspaper writer with the old Sun, once wrote that he was standing with Cohan in a saloon while a seedy reporter who was always "going to" write a great play bored Cohan with a narration of the plot and action. When Cohan had had all he could take, he picked up his change, turned to the guy and said: "That is a great play and this bar is a great place to write it."

Some years later when Cohan did some movies and took Steve to Hollywood, Steve said: "It's just Bridgeport with palm trees."

Cole Is Commander

Utica, June 25 (AP)—James A. Cole of Brooklyn is the new commander of the state Military Order of Cooties, fun-making unit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Cole was elected yesterday to succeed John H. Tills of the Bronx. Other officers elected include: Richard J. Albertson of Hicksville, L. I., judge advocate; and the Rev. This word means small reproduction of something. It started from Italian manuscripts which were decorated with little ornaments in their corners called "miniums." It is interesting to note that this Italian word means red and was applied because the little reproductions were printed in red ink.

Transit Workers Vote

New York, June 25 (AP)—Some 37,000 city transit workers vote today to determine what union will represent them in grievance procedure with the Transit Authority. Balloting takes place from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. (EDT) at 46 transit system installations. The vote is being conducted by the American Arbitration Assn. Among the unions, the CIO Transport Workers Union (TWU) claims to already represent 34,000 workers employed on city-operated subway, elevated and surface lines.

Five Graduate From Tillson School

Tillson

Five Get Diplomas At Final Exercises

Tillson, June 24 — Graduation exercises of the Tillson School took place in the auditorium of the school Wednesday evening. Members of the graduating class were Judith Clark, Joanne Engert, Katherine Tsontarides, William Wakeley and Jean Wenzel. Joanne Engert was valedictorian and Katherine Tsontarides salutatorian.

With members of the graduating class on the stage, students of the third through seventh grades marched into the auditorium. The program opened with a salute to the American flag and the Star Spangled Banner was sung. The Rev. Albert H. Shultis rendered the invocation.

The program continued as follows:

Program Listed

Salutatory, Katherine Tsontarides; poem, The Flag Is Passing By, Jean Wenzel; Detour—Road Closed, Judith Clark; giftorian speech, William Wakeley; piano solo, Joanne Engert; poem, America for Me, Katherine Tsontarides; We Will Remember, Jean Wenzel; vocal selection by the eighth grade, Brahms Lullaby; address by guest speaker, Richard B. Talleur of Kingston; class will, Judith Clark; class prophecy, Katherine Tsontarides; commencement song by the entire school; valedictory, Joanne Engert. Prizes were awarded numerous students of the entire school for the Tillson School Association, represented by their acting president, Mrs. Nathaniel Phillips. Class pins and diplomas were awarded by Kenneth Clark, president of the Tillson School Board of Education. The program closed with the song America the Beautiful and benediction by the Rev. Albert H. Shultis.

In her valedictory address, Joanne Engert pointed out that "our work has taught us a number of important facts: that an education is our most valuable asset, that it is obtained only by hard study; there is no royal road to learning, but an education brings the best reward life can offer." She added that ". . . learning is a light that brightens the path to success, and that wisdom is more precious than rubies. Whatever we may accomplish in life, let us ever strive to be an honor to the teachers and to this school which gave us the firm foundation for our higher education."

Speaks on 3-D Life

Talleur spoke on the subject, Living a 3-D Life, and pointed out three words, all starting with "D" that the graduates should take with them and keep for life. The three words were "dreams," "decisions" and "deeds."

Talleur spoke briefly about the great men who had dreams and strived to make them come true, such as Thomas Jefferson, who wrote the Declaration of Independence. "He dreamed of a free people in a free land, with liberty and justice for all," Talleur said. "And his dreams came true." He told the class that it was up to them to help make their dreams of a better world come true.

He then went on to explain the importance of the second word, "decision" and advised the class to be careful and make right decisions. He spoke briefly of "deeds." . . . good deeds, unselfish deeds, neighborly and kindly deeds. . . ." It wasn't necessarily the big deeds that were most important, Talleur said, but it was important to do the little deeds daily and do them well so that they could later accomplish the bigger deeds. "The world needs great minds; but it also needs men and women who will do the simple little deeds of everyday life and do them well," Talleur pointed out.

He congratulated the class and told them "we hope you will "live in deeds."

Approximately 200 people attended the exercises. The stage was beautifully decorated with trellises covered with roses, and bouquets of flowers. It was the most colorful graduation exercise to take place at Tillson and the first since the new additions had been constructed.

Ceremonies to Open Tillson Fire Hall

Tillson, June 24—Saturday evening the Tillson Fire Hall will officially be opened and a grand opening has been planned by members of the board of fire commissioners and the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company, Inc.

Refreshments will be served and entertainment provided during the evening, as residents of the Tillson Fire District look over the premises and fire fighting equipment at the invitation of the firemen.

Everyone in the district is encouraged to come out to the fire hall Saturday evening and enjoy the "open house" activities.

Two Are Arrested

New York, June 25 (AP)—Two teen-age youths were arrested in Central Park early today and charged with attempting to rape a 55-year-old woman who battled the pair until police aid arrived. Police said the woman, Mrs. Mary Gillen of (44 West 96th street) Manhattan, was on her way home after walking her husband, an elevator operator, to work. She was accosted by the youths near the West Drive and 90th street and one, showing a knife, forced her to go into the park with them.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Meeting Friday To Study Facts on Expanding Schools

New Paltz, June 24—Friday at 8 p. m. there will be a special meeting in the high school to present all the facts and figures concerning the present facilities the school district has, the needs for the future, and the cost it would imply. All interested voters of the school district are urged to attend this final meeting prior to the day of voting for the $1,000,000 school bond issue, set for Tuesday, June 29. The polls will be open from 2 to 9 p. m.

The advisory committee and school board point out the three major reasons for more school facilities. The first being the steady increase in population. The total district school population in 1949 was 838; the total school population in 1954 is 1,114.

The second reason is an overcrowded Campus Elementary School, the largest elementary school in the district, must reduce its enrollment from 561 to the desired 450, or from three classrooms per grade to two.

The third reason is a growing need for more classroom space and basic fecilities in the high school. The school was built in 1930 for 150 students and now houses 239. At least 450 students will be enrolled in the high school by 1959.

No Science Laboratory

At present, the high school has no science laboratory. The students' lab work is limited to one inadequate demonstration table. The science room has very little cupboard and storage space for equipment.

There is no cafeteria; the students must use a small basement lunchroom which provides milk only, or go out to eat.

The combined gym-auditorium does not permit a physical education program meeting state requirements. Because of the heavy gym load, it can rarely be used for assemblies, plays, or other auditorium activities.

Limited Locker Capacity

Present locker rooms have a capacity of 20 students but must be used by 40 and more. Both boys' and girls' locker rooms have only two shower heads apiece, insufficient lockers, no drying room.

The present guidance office is a makeshift, closet-size room in the basement. There is no health room; the nurse must use the guidance office. There is no room for health testing, no space for medical equipment or supplies.

The school board proposes to meet the needs by building an addition to the high school which will contain these improved or added facilities: nine elementary classrooms, two kindergarten rooms, five additional high school classrooms, a cafeteria for elementary and secondary use, a separate gymnasium with dividing wall, new larger locker rooms, a science laboratory and a general science classroom, music classroom unit, a guidance office, a health office, a larger administrative office, additional and wider stair wells.

These facilities should adequately house the district student population for the next five years. The addition would be easily and inexpensively adaptable for junior and senior high school use, should population growth warrant a separate elementary school after that time.

Community Is Invited To Family Life Forum

New Paltz, June 23—All people in the New Paltz community are cordially invited to be guests of the fourth annual Family Life Institute at its Community Night on Wednesday, June 30, at 8 o'clock in the Student Union Building. Admission is not charged at this time and the guest speaker will be Mrs. Jean Schick Grossman whose topic is Life With Family.

The institute is open to New Paltz citizens at other times for a minimum registration fee. The opening program will be Sunday evening, June 27. Mrs. Xan Green will direct and act in one of the new American Theatre Wing plays entitled The Case of the Forgotten Handshake. The institute will close on Friday with an address and discussion period led by Bernard Gunther, architect and city planner, who will speak on the subject: Planning Homes and Communities for Gracious Living.

Children's Service Planned for Sunday

New Paltz, June 24—Children's Day will be held at the Methodist Church at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, taking the place of the regular 11 a. m. worship.

Those planning the program with the children are the following members and assistants of the church school staff: Mrs. Alvin Beatty, William Denneen, R. Francis HasBrouck, Joseph Graham, Mrs. Herbert Phillips, Mrs. C. S. Van Valkenburgh, Jr., and Mrs. E. C. Trautwein, organist. The intermediate classes will lead in the devotional program and the younger classes will demonstrate something of their program of this past year. The junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. Willett Porter, will sing. Mr. Porter will give the children's sermon and administer the sacrament of baptism. The special offering of the day will go towards the National Methodist Scholarship and Loan Fund.

Dedication Birthday Celebrated by Church

New Paltz, June 24—The 25th anniversary of the dedication of the present-standing New Paltz Methodist Church was observed last Sunday.

The 25 and 50-year members of the church were recognized and Perry Berago, violin soloist at the original dedication service, played. The choir sang Gloria by Mozart, the same anthem sung at the dedication service in 1929. Miss Margaret Newton, organist and choir director in 1929 was one of the 50-year members honored. At the close of the service the minister and congregation united in a litany of re-dedication of the church.

R. M. HasBrouck served as master of ceremonies at the evening supper and program. Mrs. Lillian Adee, Mrs. Minnie Duryea, Miss Margaret Newton and Mrs. Annie Smith, 50-year members, were introduced. Greetings were read by the minister from those who were unable to be present.

Strawberry Festival

New Paltz, June 24—Saturday, July 10, is the date set for the Strawberry Festival and supper to be held at the Lloyd Methodist Church on the New Paltz-Highland road. The festivities will begin at 5:30 and will continue till 8.

Seekers' Picnic

New Paltz, June 24—The Seekers' Class of the New Paltz Methodist Church will hold its annual picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Quick on Grove street this coming Tuesday beginning at 11 a. m. Mrs. Roman Hutton is in charge of devotions. All members and friends are invited to this picnic meeting and are asked to bring a covered-dish, silver, dishes and their picnic appetites. Sandwiches and refreshments will be furnished.

Auto Massacre?

Osceola, Iowa (AP)—Iowa Highway Patrol cars carry large signs across their backs, showing the current traffic fatality toll in the state for the year—"184 killed in '54." The other day when a patrolman stopped his car for a stop sign here, two small boys walked toward the rear of the car. One said, "Let's see how many this one's killed."

An ermine is a stoat when its fur turns white in winter.

Link to Past Broken

Rockford, Ill. (AP)—Rockford's last blacksmith shop has closed. Gust Djupstrom, who remembers the way when three smiths in his shop shoed 86 horses a day, has extinguished the last flame in the forge. The 63-year-old shop will be torn down. Old-timers who congregated daily at the blacksmith shop to exchange stories of the past recall the time a man unable to find a place to tie his horse took it to a nearby saloon and ordered schooners of beer for himself and the horse.

Safe Deposit

Indianapolis (AP)—The prisoner, arrested on three charges, including drunken driving, was really "loaded." Bond was set at $1,000. He pulled up his pants leg, pulled out a wad of bills from an artificial leg and counted out $1,000.

Meeting Friday To Study Facts on Expanding Schools

New Paltz, June 24—Friday at 8 p. m. there will be a special meeting in the high school to present all the facts and figures concerning the present facilities the school district has, the needs for the future, and the cost it would imply. All interested voters of the school district are urged to attend this final meeting prior to the day of voting for the $1,000,000 school bond issue, set for Tuesday, June 29. The polls will be open from 2 to 9 p. m.

The advisory committee and school board point out the three major reasons for more school facilities. The first being the steady increase in population. The total district school population in 1949 was 838; the total school population in 1954 is 1,114.

The second reason is an overcrowded Campus Elementary School, the largest elementary school in the district, must reduce its enrollment from 561 to the desired 450, or from three classrooms per grade to two.

The third reason is a growing need for more classroom space and basic fecilities in the high school. The school was built in 1930 for 150 students and now houses 239. At least 450 students will be enrolled in the high school by 1959.

No Science Laboratory

At present, the high school has no science laboratory. The students' lab work is limited to one inadequate demonstration table. The science room has very little cupboard and storage space for equipment.

There is no cafeteria; the students must use a small basement lunchroom which provides milk only, or go out to eat.

The combined gym-auditorium does not permit a physical education program meeting state requirements. Because of the heavy gym load, it can rarely be used for assemblies, plays, or other auditorium activities.

Limited Locker Capacity

Present locker rooms have a capacity of 20 students but must be used by 40 and more. Both boys' and girls' locker rooms have only two shower heads apiece, insufficient lockers, no drying room.

The present guidance office is a makeshift, closet-size room in the basement. There is no health room; the nurse must use the guidance office. There is no room for health testing, no space for medical equipment or supplies.

The school board proposes to meet the needs by building an addition to the high school which will contain these improved or added facilities: nine elementary classrooms, two kindergarten rooms, five additional high school classrooms, a cafeteria for elementary and secondary use, a separate gymnasium with dividing wall, new larger locker rooms, a science laboratory and a general science classroom, music classroom unit, a guidance office, a health office, a larger administrative office, additional and wider stair wells.

These facilities should adequately house the district student population for the next five years. The addition would be easily and inexpensively adaptable for junior and senior high school use, should population growth warrant a separate elementary school after that time.

The institute is open to New Paltz citizens at other times for a minimum registration fee. The opening program will be Sunday evening, June 27. Mrs. Xan Green will direct and act in one of the new American Theatre Wing plays entitled The Case of the Forgotten Handshake. Children's Service Planned for Sunday

New Paltz, June 24—Children's Day will be held at the Methodist Church at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, taking the place of the regular 11 a. m. worship.

Those planning the program with the children are the following members and assistants of the church school staff: Mrs. Alvin Beatty, William Denneen, R. Francis HasBrouck, Joseph Graham, Mrs. Herbert Phillips, Mrs. C. S. Van Valkenburgh, Jr., and Mrs. E. C. Trautwein, organist. The intermediate classes will lead in the devotional program and the younger classes will demonstrate something of their program of this past year. The junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. Willett Porter, will sing. Mr. Porter will give the children's sermon and administer the sacrament of baptism. The special offering of the day will go towards the National Methodist Scholarship and Loan Fund.

Dedication Birthday Celebrated by Church

New Paltz, June 24—The 25th anniversary of the dedication of the present-standing New Paltz Methodist Church was observed last Sunday.

The 25 and 50-year members of the church were recognized and Perry Berago, violin soloist at the original dedication service, played. The choir sang Gloria by Mozart, the same anthem sung at the dedication service in 1929. Miss Margaret Newton, organist and choir director in 1929 was one of the 50-year members honored. At the close of the service the minister and congregation united in a litany of re-dedication of the church.

R. M. HasBrouck served as master of ceremonies at the evening supper and program. Mrs. Lillian Adee, Mrs. Minnie Duryea, Miss Margaret Newton and Mrs. Annie Smith, 50-year members, were introduced. Greetings were read by the minister from those who were unable to be present.

Auto Massacre?

Osceola, Iowa (AP)—Iowa Highway Patrol cars carry large signs across their backs, showing the current traffic fatality toll in the state for the year—"184 killed in '54." The other day when a patrolman stopped his car for a stop sign here, two small boys walked toward the rear of the car. One said, "Let's see how many this one's killed."

An ermine is a stoat when its fur turns white in winter.

Link to Past Broken

Rockford, Ill. (AP)—Rockford's last blacksmith shop has closed. Gust Djupstrom, who remembers the way when three smiths in his shop shoed 86 horses a day, has extinguished the last flame in the forge. The 63-year-old shop will be torn down. Old-timers who congregated daily at the blacksmith shop to exchange stories of the past recall the time a man unable to find a place to tie his horse took it to a nearby saloon and ordered schooners of beer for himself and the horse.

Safe Deposit

Indianapolis (AP)—The prisoner, arrested on three charges, including drunken driving, was really "loaded."- Bond was set at $1,000. He pulled up his pants leg, pulled out a wad of bills from an artificial leg and counted out $1,000.

Bard Announces Gifts to College

Annandale-on-Hudson, June 24—Bard College received gifts of $131,015.61 during 1953-54, the largest amount in over 20 years, Dr. Harry J. Carman, chairman of the board of trustees has announced. This extraordinary record was in large measure accomplished by the success of the 95th Anniversary Fund Drive for $100,000, which went over the top this past weekend and now totals $102,024.11.

Pre-campaign gifts for general purposes came to $18,293.07 and special gifts during the year equalled $10,698.43. Included among the latter group was a gift of $5,289.43 from the Rev. George R. Bishop, Class of 1894, of Princeton, to establish a scholarship, and a grant to improve the Barr Memorial Organ in the College Chapel of $4,800, from the Rev. George Dudley Barr, an alumnus, of Buffalo.

PITCHING HORSESHOES

By BILLY ROSE

IT WAS NICE KNOWING HIM

E. Ray Goetz, 68, died on the night of June 12 in the Pickwick Arms Hotel, Greenwich, Conn. The obituaries in the New York papers reviewed his career as a songwriter and theatrical producer. None of them, however, made mention of his greatest attribute — his remarkable talent for living.

I'd like to remedy that omission. . . .

When I first met Ray Goetz, he was one of the hardest working fellows on Broadway. Between 1914 and 1930 he had written many popular songs including such standouts as "For Me and My Gal." He had also produced a dozen distinguished plays and musicals, among them "Fifty Million Frenchmen" and "The New Yorkers," with words and music by a friend of his from Indiana named Cole Porter.

In 1931, on the spur of the impulse, Ray packed his bags and belongings and left for Europe. At the time, a lot of people, me included, wondered why.

A few summers later I learned the answer to that "why." Tired of chasing the fast buck, I went off to Paris to see the sights, and the nicest sight I saw was E. Ray Goetz. His sense of honor, it seemed, had put on weight, and his ease of manner indicated he had become too interested in the business of living to ever again bother with the silly business of business.

From 1931 until he died, Ray stubbornly refused to let his talents encroach on his way of living. Each year he'd follow the sun to Bairritz, Capri, Palm Beach, Marrakech—anywhere his fancy and the temperature might dictate. He never again was a "success" in the splashy meaning of the word. As one of his friends put it, Ray couldn't afford to waste time on hard work when there were so many easy chairs to sit in and easy people to talk to.

Goetz was not a rich man, but he refused to let that grubby fact interfere with his busy life of doing nothing and doing it beautifully. Actually, he never needed much money. There were people in every country whose doors were always open to this gentle little gentleman who was a connoisseur of everything from roquefort to Rembrandt. And why not? When he walked into a room it was as if someone had turned on a big chandelier.

Ray was one of the few men who could kiss a lady's hand without looking like Groucho Marx, and the only man I ever met who could mix a salad without looking plain silly. He talked well but, even more important, he listened well. This led all sorts of people to dump their troubles in his lap, but never in a quarter of a century did I hear Goetz say a word about his own troubles.

The last time a saw this sophisticated kewpie doll was a couple of summers ago at my place in Mt. Kisco. He showed up one weekend accompanied by half a dozen trunks, and when I asked if he planned to stay the summer, he said he had only brought the barest essentials.

The barest essentials, it developed, included almost a hundred bottles of Saratoga Springs water, a small apothecary's scale and a collection of herbs and spices. One of the trunks was filled with old magazines which Ray said he had been meaning to read for years. . . .

In short, in a world full of eager beavers, Goetz was as relaxed as a Siamese cat purring to itself in the sun. And, if having friends and fun is any measure of success, then he was probably the most successful man of his and my generation.

Over my 50-odd and helter-skelter years, I have met many people I would have liked to change places with. In all my life, however, I have only met two men I would have liked to be. One is Bernard M. Baruch. The other is, or was, E. Ray Goetz.

A Big Wind

Tokyo (AP)—U. S. Air Force meteorologists believe that jet streams—high altitude wind belts—are stronger over Japan than anywhere else in the world. Recently a jet stream was reported at 35,000 feet and moving eastward at 400 miles an hour. Aircraft use such winds to increase their range and speed without additional fuel.

Don't worry if a tapioca cream pudding is thin when it is taken from the heat; it will thicken as it cools.

A Big Wind

Tokyo (AP)—U. S. Air Force meteorologists believe that jet streams—high altitude wind belts—are stronger over Japan than anywhere else in the world. Recently a jet stream was reported at 35,000 feet and moving eastward at 400 miles an hour. Aircraft use such winds to increase their range and speed without additional fuel.

Don't worry if a tapioca cream pudding is thin when it is taken from the heat; it will thicken as it cools.

From life's book of tears and laughter, I have gained this little bit of lore — I'd rather have a morning after than never have a night before.

A revenue agent was investigating a mountain region for its corn liquor. He struck up a conversation with a native.

Revenue agent—Tell me is there any moonshine around here?

Native—Well, there's them that calls it moonshine, but to tell the truth it acts more like sunstroke.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Urges Preservation Of Local Heritage

Woodstock, June 25 — A plea for members of the Woodstock Historical Society to help keep the historical aspects of the village intact was made by Al Evers, president of the society at a recent meeting at his home in Lewis Hollow. He cited the society's charter which requires that members do their utmost for the heritage of their community.

"We have quite a tradition — the simple, functional old houses, for example the Woodstock Five and Ten building, and the William Morris tradition of Byrdcliffe. We have the level of the early American tradition in Lewis Edson, early composer of Shady, as well as a tradition here of the crafts and ironwork.

Society Has 'Duty'

"It is the duty of the Historical Society in accordance with its charter to educate and preserve the Woodstock culture."

Evers suggested that the group acquire a collection of photographs of the historical landmarks and buildings of Woodstock, and urged that the members take an active part in this preservation program.

Mr. Evers also spoke and exhibited the valuable collection of old books, music and records, that have been presented to the society through the generosity of Craig Vosburgh of Shady, and read many excerpts from them. Some of the books are old account books, three pertaining to the glass factory, dated 1855, some containing accounts of the store, records of a Saugerties woodworking factory, and accounts of the Vosburgh turning mill. One pertains to the Reynolds family of Shady, dated 1850, while another deals with the records of the Jennings store in Kingston, located where the present Woolworth store now stands. It deals with wearing apparel in the year 1850.

Pointing out a mistake that he had discovered in a recent argicultural publication, Evers gave an account of the development of the Jonathan apple, by Philip Rick—the apple often referred to in this area as the Ricky. Evers suggested further information concerning Philip Rick's apple.

Wagon Has Interest

While visiting the museum of the New York Historical Society this winter Evers and his son encountered an unusual item in an exhibition of antique toys there. In one of the showcases was a perfectly wrought replica of an old merchant's wagon, of the type which regularly toured this area. Painted on the side of the toy wagon was the inscription, H. C. Wolven, 1884, Woodstock, N. Y. Although little could be found concerning the origin of the wagon at the museum, Evers feels that it contains a real story, and is eager to locate further information concerning the toy.

The matter of the booklet to be published in honor of the memory of Marion Bullard, was discussed. Miss Rhoda Chase spoke of a photograph of Marion Bullard, which is in her possession, and it was agreed that it be used as a frontpiece in the new booklet. Mrs. Oxhandler read a few excerpts from her material regarding life and activities of Mrs. Bullard, in preparation for the booklet.

Mrs. Margaret R. Kenyon, secretary of the Society, briefly reviewed the Woodstocks of the World exhibition to be held this summer in Woodstock, England. She also read the last letter from Mr. A. H. T. Robb-Smith, acknowledging the receipt of the society's donations with great appreciation.

In part the letter said: "Thank you, too, for the delightful painting of Woodstock, with the spire of the church forming a focal point and the hills rolling away in the background—and then all those booklets and photos.

"While reading those books I found some other common ties, though we have no art colony—yet there have been artists here. Charles Turner (1774-1857) a famous engraver, who amongst other things engraved many of J. M. W. Turner's paintings, was born and worked here; then there was Willie Bennett, a well-known painter of animals at the beginning of the nineteenth century. Then about 1900, when Whitehead was discovering Byrdcliffe, Sir William Nicolson was painting in this very house! (Chaucer's House). Another link is even more remarkable. A very famous English apple, the Blenheim orange was raised in our own Woodstock in the 15th century; a famous Canadian apple, Crimson Beauty, was raised at Woodstock, New Brunswick, and looking at your map I saw, Jonathan Apple Monument, and so discovered that your famous Jonathan was found on Mr. Philip Rick's farm and was named by Judge Buell after Jonathan Hasbrouck who first called attention to it."

Exercises Tonight At Woodstock School

Woodstock, June 25—The third class to graduate from the Woodstock Elementary School, will hold exercises at the school at 8 p. m. today. Scheduled to receive certificates from Adolf Heckeroth, chairman of the school board, are Hannah Barth, Sharon DeLisio, Elizabeth S. Lee, Ann Russell, Roseann Stolpinski, Norman T. Boggs, Christopher D. B. Evers, Homer R. Foster, Richard A. Frodsham, Konrad Cramer King, J. Wilcox Mellin, Kenneth L. Wilson and Dominque Vos.

The speaker will be John Kammerien, superintendent of schools in Hudson. The invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd. Scholarship prize awards, totalling approximately $300 will be presented by Walter Van Wagenen, principal. Included in the program will be music by the chorus.

Blind Sale July 19

Woodstock, June 25—A sale of articles made by the blind will be held Monday, June 19, at a location to be announced later. Committees representing the churches of Woodstock will be in charge of the sale under the direction of Mrs. John Wolven as general chairman. The blind-made products to be offered for sale will include new items as well as many household articles which have been very popular with homemakers in past years.

Zena Gallery to Open

Woodstock, June 25—The new Zena Gallery will open Saturday, with an exhibition of paintings by the following artists: Robert Angeloch, Roy Barth, Lillian Lent, Lynfield Ott, Herbert Lent and Cane LaCasse.

Dance Is Scheduled

Woodstock, June 25—A dance, featuring both round and square dancing, will be held at the Zena Country Club Saturday at 8:15 p. m. Music will be by the Catskill Mountaineers, and refreshments will be on sale. Everyone is invited to attend.

Association Offers First Gallery Show

Woodstock, June 25—Opening the summer season with a drawing show at the Art Gallery, the Woodstock Artists Association offers a collection of line, wash and color pieces ranging from the representational to abstract. Noted with interest were Daniel Revzan's delicate and expressive head, a nude by Dorothy Varian and Bruce Currie's linear still life with pitcher. There is subtle movement in Andree Ruellan's Man with Accordion, and a spritely quality inherent in Phoebe Towgin's Home To The Hills.

There is a strong, solid work, Ethel Magafan's High Mountain, and Rosella Hartman's Palm is formal and decorative. Simply handled, Kurt Sluizer's Mexican Farmer has appeal as well as A. E. Solomon's lively Two Guitars.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Urges Preservation Of Local Heritage

Woodstock, June 25 — A plea for members of the Woodstock Historical Society to help keep the historical aspects of the village intact was made by Al Evers, president of the society at a recent meeting at his home in Lewis Hollow. He cited the society's charter which requires that members do their utmost for the heritage of their community.

"We have quite a tradition — the simple, functional old houses, for example the Woodstock Five and Ten building, and the William Morris tradition of Byrdcliffe. We have the level of the early American tradition in Lewis Edson, early composer of Shady, as well as a tradition here of the crafts and ironwork.

Society Has 'Duty'

"It is the duty of the Historical Society in accordance with its charter to educate and preserve the Woodstock culture,"

Evers suggested that the group acquire a collection of photographs of the historical landmarks and buildings of Woodstock, and urged that the members take an active part in this preservation program.

Mr. Evers also spoke and exhibited the valuable collection of old books, music and records, that have been presented to the society through the generosity of Craig Vosburgh of Shady, and read many excerpts from them. Some of the books are old account books, three pertaining to the glass factory, dated 1855, some containing accounts of the store, records of a Saugerties woodworking factory, and accounts of the Vosburgh turning mill. One pertains to the Reynolds family of Shady, dated 1850, while another deals with the records of the Jennings store in Kingston, located where the present Woolworth store now stands. It deals with wearing apparel in the year 1850.

Pointing out a mistake that he had discovered in a recent agricultural publication, Evers gave an account of the development of the Jonathan apple, by Philip Rick—the apple often referred to in this area as the Ricky. Evers suggested that the society collect further information concerning Philip Rick's apple.

Wagon Has Interest

While visiting the museum of the New York Historical Society this winter Evers and his son encountered an unusual item in an exhibition of antique toys there. In one of the showcases was a perfectly wrought replica of an old merchant's wagon, of the type which regularly toured this area. Painted on the side of the toy wagon was the inscription, H. C. Wolven, 1884, Woodstock, N. Y. Although little could be found concerning the origin of the wagon at the museum, Evers feels that it contains a real story, and is eager to locate further information concerning the toy.

The matter of the booklet to be published in honor of the memory of Marion Bullard, was discussed. Miss Rhoda Chase spoke of a photograph of Marion Bullard, which is in her possession, and it was agreed that it be used as a frontpiece in the new booklet. Mrs. Oxhandler read a few excerpts from her material regarding life and activities of Mrs. Bullard, in preparation for the booklet.

Mrs. Margaret R. Kenyon, secretary of the Society, briefly reviewed the Woodstocks of the World exhibition to be held this summer in Woodstock, England. She also read the last letter from Mr. A. H. T. Robb-Smith, acknowledging the receipt of the society's donations with great appreciation.

In part the letter said: "Thank you, too, for the delightful painting of Woodstock, with the spire of the church forming a focal point and the hills rolling away in the background—and then all those booklets and photos.

"While reading those books I found some other common ties, though we have no art colony—yet there have been artists here. Charles Turner (1774-1857) a famous engraver, who amongst other things engraved many of J. M. W. Turner's paintings, was born and worked here; then there was Willie Bennett, a well-known painter of animals at the beginning of the nineteenth century. Then about 1900, when Whitehead was discovering Byrdcliffe, Sir William Nicolson was painting in this very house! (Chaucer's House). Another link is even more remarkable. A very famous English apple, the Blenheim orange was raised in our own Woodstock in the 15th century; a famous Canadian apple, Crimson Beauty, was raised at Woodstock, New Brunswick, and looking at your map I saw, Jonathan Apple Monument, and so discovered that your famous Jonathan was found on Mr. Philip Rick's farm and was named by Judge Buell after Jonathan Hasbrouck who first called attention to it."

Exercises Tonight At Woodstock School

Woodstock, June 25—The third class to graduate from the Woodstock Elementary School, will hold exercises at the school at 8 p. m. today. Scheduled to receive certificates from Adolf Heckeroth, chairman of the school board, are Hannah Barth, Sharon DeLisio, Elizabeth S. Lee, Ann Russell, Roseann Stolpinski, Norman T. Boggs, Christopher D. B. Evers, Homer R. Foster, Richard A. Frodsham, Konrad Cramer King, J. Wilcox Mellin, Kenneth L. Wilson and Dominque Vos.

The speaker will be John Kammerien, superintendent of schools in Hudson. The invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd. Scholarship prize awards, totalling approximately $300 will be presented by Walter Van Wagenen, principal. Included in the program will be music by the chorus.

Blind Sale July 19

Woodstock, June 25—A sale of articles made by the blind will be held Monday, June 19, at a location to be announced later. Committees representing the churches of Woodstock will be in charge of the sale under the direction of Mrs. John Wolven as general chairman. The blind-made products to be offered for sale will include new items as well as many household articles which have been very popular with homemakers in past years.

Zena Gallery to Open

Woodstock, June 25—The new Zena Gallery will open Saturday, with an exhibition of paintings by the following artists: Robert Angeloch, Roy Barth, Lillian Lent, Lynfield Ott, Herbert Lent and Cane LaCasse.

Dance Is Scheduled

Woodstock, June 25—A dance, featuring both round and square dancing, will be held at the Zena Country Club Saturday at 8:15 p. m. Music will be by the Catskill Mountaineers, and refreshments will be on sale. Everyone is invited to attend.

Association Offers First Gallery Show

Woodstock, June 25—Opening the summer season with a drawing show at the Art Gallery, the Woodstock Artists Association offers a collection of line, wash and color pieces ranging from the representational to abstract. Noted with interest were Daniel Revzan's delicate and expressive head, a nude by Dorothy Varian and Bruce Currie's linear still life with pitcher. There is subtle movement in Andree Ruellan's Man with Accordion, and a spritely quality inherent in Phoebe Towgin's Home To The Hills.

There is a strong, solid work, Ethel Magafan's High Mountain, and Rosella Hartman's Palm is formal and decorative. Simply handled, Kurt Sluizer's Mexican Farmer has appeal as well as A. E. Solomon's lively Two Guitars.

Magley of Doblers Blanks Olive Merchants on Four Hits, 4-0

Bob Gill Raps Homer as Winners Gain Second Win

Nadlers Meet Doblers In Tuesday Contest

City League

	Won	Lost
Jones Dairy	3	0
Nadler Motors	2	1
Dobler Beer	2	1
N. Y. Panthers	1	2
Olive Merchants	0	4

George Magley, the Dobler right hander who pitches not unlike his New York Giant namesake on occasions, baffled the Olive Merchants, 4-0, on four hits in yesterday's City League game at the Athletic Field.

The victory elevated Manager Joe Hoffman's Brewmeisters over the .500 mark with a record of 2 wins and 1 loss. Conversely, the Merchants suffered their fourth straight loss.

Magley, who has a no-hit game to his credit in City League competition, checked the Merchants with four widely scattered singles, while walking two and fanning three to get the decision over Harry Personeus.

Gill Pounds Homer

Bob Gill, the Dobler left fielder and leadoff man, played an important role in his team's win with a single and homer that accounted for a pair of RBIs. The homer, a long smash just inside the right field foul line accounted for two runs in the fifth. It followed a Panther, bobble on Don Riehl and a sacrifice by pitcher Magley.

Dobler's got to Personeus for single tallies in the second and fourth innings. In the second George Glaser walked and Houghtaling was hit with a pitched ball. Riehl fanned but Glaser scored when Olen's pickoff throw to Crosby went awry.

Personeus got himself in trouble in the fourth by making a bad throw on Mike Rienzo's tap. Mike advanced to second on Allan Vogt's infield out and scored on George Glaser's single.

The Merchants staged a mild threat with two outs in the fifth when Davis and Wilkins singled, but the best Personeus could do was a tap to box.

Wilkins of the Merchants had half of his team's hits, both singles.

Nadler Motors meet Doblers in Tuesday's game.

The Scoreboard

By BEN PHLEGAR, Associated Press Sports Writer

The "dream" deal of the winter is proving nothing but a summer nightmare to the Milwaukee Braves.

By now the Braves' officials reach for the aspirin bottle automatically whenever they are forced to remember how much they gave for so little.

Johnny Antonelli, Don Liddle, Ebba St. Claire, Billy Klaus and cash were parcelled off to the New York Giants for Bobby Thomson and Sam Calderone.

This was supposed to be the trade that could take the pennant away from Brooklyn. It may succeed—but for the Giants instead of Milwaukee as freely predicted.

It's difficult to believe now that many experts hailed this as an even swap. The experts, of course, didn't know Thomson was going to break his ankle in spring training. But even with Thomson in shape is it questionable that the deal would have seemed as good on the diamond as it did on paper.

For the Giants Antonelli has won nine games, Liddle has won two. St. Claire is catching at Minneapolis where Klaus is playing second base and hitting over 300.

Beaten by Liddle

Not only have the Braves suffered mentally and financially but they have been helpless in man-to-man competition. Antonelli has beaten them three times in three tries. Liddle pushed them into fourth place yesterday with a sparkling 4-hit 2-1 victory.

Liddle's masterful performance kept the Giants one game ahead of the Dodgers who beat Cincinnati 9-6. St. Louis trimmed Pittsburgh 5-1 and Philadelphia shaded Chicago 3-2 in 11 innings.

Cleveland saw its American League lead shrink to two games over the Chicago White Sox. The Indians lost to Philadelphia 5-1. Chicago defeated Washington 5-2. Third place New York moved within four games of the leaders with a 11-2 waltz at Detroit. Boston and Baltimore weren't scheduled.

Liddle got the runs he needed to beat his former mates when Willie Mays parked a Warren Spahn pitch deep into the upper left field seats with Don Mueller on base in the second inning. It was Willie's 23rd homer, tops in both leagues. The Milwaukee run came on a homer by Andy Pafko.

Duke Snider, Roy Campanella and Junior Gilliam drove in five Brooklyn runs with homers. Ted Kluszewski and Ed Bailey hit a pair, good for three Cincinnati runs.

Card Rookie Clicks

The Cardinals were treated to a four-hit performance by rookie Brooks Lawrence in his first major league appearance. The 29-year-old righthander, just called up from Columbus, struck out four Pirates and walked two.

Philadelphia also received a pleasant pitching surprise when veteran Herman Wehmeir stayed 11 innings for the victory over Chicago. He gave up five hits. The Phillies tied the game in the seventh with a two-run homer by Bobby Morgan and won in the 11th on a bases-loaded single by Earl Torgeson.

Rookie Arnold Portocarrero turned on the Indians, who had beaten him three times, and tamed them on five hits for his third straight victory. Lou Limmer and Joe De Maestri hit home runs for Philadelphia.

One of the amazing reactions to Satchel Paige's Wednesday night stint at the stadium was the ennui and boredom that enveloped the fans while the Ancient One was toying with the House of David.

It was a startling example of the indifference of the public to live baseball shows. With one of the greatest personalities in the game's history doing his stuff, the fans looked on in almost funeral silence. There was only a smattering of polite applause when Old Satchmo carted his oversized brogans to the mound.

Paige's repertoire hardly dazzled the mob. Nearly half of them departed in the eighth inning. When it was all over, the remnants of the early gathering gave Old Satch a mild round of applause as he shuffled into the Glode Trotters dugout. At his present pace, Old Satch is a sure bet to last until he's 75.

Those folks who think there is a chance to revive interest in local, independent baseball should have been sitting in the stands Wednesday night. They would have had their answer first hand.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Ted Bayly, Troy wrestling promoter, planning firecracker special July 3 at municipal auditorium. Little League crowds shrinking at an alarming rate. Not even the family circles find time to visit the LL arenas either in number or enthusiasm of yesteryear. And if you feel qualified to umpire a ball game, contact any of the Little Leagues, the FYL and the forthcoming Recreation League. There is crying need for qualified arbiters in all those circuits. As Dan Parker asks, doesn't Ed Furgol's victory in the U. S. Open consign the scrap heap all those textbooks on golf. Those that insist that the basic element of a good golf swing is a stiff left arm. Furgol's left arm is withered and 10 inches shorter than his right.

• Of Men and Mice:

Winfield Welch, manager of the Harlem Globe Trotters, took one look at the crowd Wednesday and said, 'It isn't like the old days." Welch played here with the New York Cubans the night old Luis Tiant, a clever southpaw, racked up a great Recreation team, 5-0. Wouldn't the John Landy-Roger Bannister mile duel inthe British Empire Games at Vancouver on July 30 rate as the TV sports attraction of the century. Overlooked in the list of golfers who conquered Wiltwyck's No. 7 hole in the Herdegen tournament were Bill Stifler of Woodstock, who hit a par and birdie there. Take it from Bill Schwab, who umpired the Globe Trotter-House of David game, Old Satchmo's slow ball is slower than slow. "You wait and wait until it gets near the plate and then you don't know where it's going to break," said the arbiter. Woodstock Country Club plans a Calcutta in connection with the annual 36-hole Waren Townley Memorial handicap on the July 4 weekend. Other events include a smorgasbord on Saturday and dancing that night and Sunday.

• Birdies and Bogies:

Trout fishermen in this area, searching for supposedly greener pastures, sometimes overlook one of the better rivers in America. That's the Beaverkill in the Catskill mountains. Despite construction and industrial activities along its banks, the Beaverkill is still rated by the New York Conservation Department as one of the most naturally productive streams in the state. It's also heavily stocked each year with hatchery-raised trout. The Beaverkill is no pushover—you have to wade to fish many of its pools properly and its wary browns won't strike clumsy offerings. Still, anglers who take to master this stream will always have, within easy reach, the kind of fishing that others travel hundreds of miles to find.

Arlington Track Plans Ladies Night

Arlington Speedway launches a series of Ladies' Nights in conjunction with its regular weekly feature of seven races in the stock and modified field.

Bud Marl, who holds the point leadership at Arlington, heads tonight's field. His chief opposition is expected to come from such worthies as Russ Dodd, George Romar, Herb Mason, Bud Hitsman, John Herron and others.

Turk Daley and Bill Van Voorhees of Pleasant Valley will engage in a car rolling contest as an added attraction.

All women accompanied by a male escort will be admitted free tonight.

Demolition Derby Set at Rhinebeck

Rhinebeck Speedway fans will see their first "Demolition Derby" of the season Saturday night.

After the regular program of stock car races, five junk cars will be lined up in the infield and five regular drivers will attempt to wreck each other's car.

Ken Gootermote, winner of last week's 30-lap stock feature, returns to head this week's card which consists of 12 lap heats, two 15-lap semi-finals and the regular 30-lap main event.

Hutchins Wins Tourney

Sylvia Hutchins won first prize in the Ladies' Day Kickers tournament at the Woodstock Country Club this week. Mrs. Terry Staples was second and Jessie Burnett took third. Fourteen players competed.

Magley of Doblers Blanks Olive Merchants on Four Hits, 4-0

George Magley, the Dobler right hander who pitches not unlike his New York Giant namesake on occasions, baffled the Olive Merchants, 4-0, on four hits in yesterday's City League game at the Athletic Field.

The victory elevated Manager Joe Hoffman's Brewmeisters over the .500 mark with a record of 2 wins and 1 loss. Conversely, the Merchants suffered their fourth straight loss.

Magley, who has a no-hit game to his credit in City League competition, checked the Merchants with four widely scattered singles, while walking two and fanning three to get the decision over Harry Personeus.

Gill Pounds Homer

Bob Gill, the Dobler left fielder and leadoff man, played an important role in his team's win with a single and homer that accounted for a pair of RBIs. The homer, a long smash just inside the right field foul line accounted for two runs in the fifth. It followed a Panther bobble on Don Riehl and a sacrifice by pitcher Magley.

Dobler's got to Personeus for single tallies in the second and fourth innings. In the second George Glaser walked and Houghtaling was hit with a pitched ball. Riehl fanned but Glaser scored when Olen's pickoff throw to Crosby went awry.

Personeus got himself in trouble in the fourth by making a bad throw on Mike Rienzo's tap. Mike advanced to second on Allan Vogt's infield out and scored on George Glaser's single.

The Merchants staged a mild threat with two outs in the fifth when Davis and Wilkins singled, but the best Personeus could do was a tap to box.

Wilkins of the Merchants had half of his team's hits, both singles.

Nadler Motors meet Doblers in Tuesday's game.

The "dream" deal of the winter is proving nothing but a summer nightmare to the Milwaukee Braves.

By now the Braves' officials reach for the aspirin bottle automatically whenever they are forced to remember how much they gave for so little.

Johnny Antonelli, Don Liddle, Ebba St. Claire, Billy Klaus and cash were parcelled off to the New York Giants for Bobby Thomson and Sam Calderone.

This was supposed to be the trade that could take the pennant away from Brooklyn. It may succeed—but for the Giants instead of Milwaukee as freely predicted.

It's difficult to believe now that many experts hailed this as an even swap. The experts, of course, didn't know Thomson was going to break his ankle in spring training. But even with Thomson in shape is it questionable that the deal would have seemed as good on the diamond as it did on paper.

For the Giants Antonelli has won nine games, Liddle has won two. St. Claire is catching at Minneapolis where Klaus is playing second base and hitting over 300.

Beaten by Liddle

Not only have the Braves suffered mentally and financially but they have been helpless in man-to-man competition. Antonelli has beaten them three times in three tries. Liddle pushed them into fourth place yesterday with a sparkling 4-hit 2-1 victory.

Liddle's masterful performance kept the Giants one game ahead of the Dodgers who beat Cincinnati 9-6. St. Louis trimmed Pittsburgh 5-1 and Philadelphia shaded Chicago 3-2 in 11 innings.

Cleveland saw its American League lead shrink to two games over the Chicago White Sox. The Indians lost to Philadelphia 5-1. Chicago defeated Washington 5-2. Third place New York moved within four games of the leaders with a 11-2 waltz at Detroit. Boston and Baltimore weren't scheduled.

Liddle got the runs he needed to beat his former mates when Willie Mays parked a Warren Spahn pitch deep into the upper left field seats with Don Mueller on base in the second inning. It was Willie's 23rd homer, tops in both leagues. The Milwaukee run came on a homer by Andy Pafko.

Duke Snider, Roy Campanella and Junior Gilliam drove in five Brooklyn runs with homers. Ted Kluszewski and Ed Bailey hit a pair, good for three Cincinnati runs.

Card Rookie Clicks

The Cardinals were treated to a four-hit performance by rookie Brooks Lawrence in his first major league appearance. The 29-year-old righthander, just called up from Columbus, struck out four Pirates and walked two.

Philadelphia also received a pleasant pitching surprise when veteran Herman Wehmeir stayed 11 innings for the victory over Chicago. He gave up five hits. The Phillies tied the game in the seventh with a two-run homer by Bobby Morgan and won in the 11th on a bases-loaded single by Earl Torgeson.

Rookie Arnold Portocarrero turned on the Indians, who had beaten him three times, and tamed them on five hits for his third straight victory. Lou Limmer and Joe De Maestri hit home runs for Philadelphia.

Wouldn't the John Landy-Roger Bannister mile duel inthe British Empire Games at Vancouver on July 30 rate as the TV sports attraction of the century. Overlooked in the list of golfers who conquered Wiltwyck's No. 7 hole in the Herdegen tournament were Bill Stifler of Woodstock, who hit a par and birdie there. Take it from Bill Schwab, who umpired the Globe Trotter-House of David game, Old Satchmo's slow ball is slower than slow. "You wait and wait until it gets near the plate and then you don't know where it's going to break," said the arbiter. Woodstock Country Club plans a Calcutta in connection with the annual 36-hole Waren Townley Memorial handicap on the July 4 weekend. Other events include a smorgasbord on Saturday and dancing that night and Sunday.

• Birdies and Bogies:

Trout fishermen in this area, searching for supposedly greener pastures, sometimes overlook one of the better rivers in America. That's the Beaverkill in the Catskill mountains. Despite construction and industrial activities along its banks, the Beaverkill is still rated by the New York Conservation Department as one of the most naturally productive streams in the state. It's also heavily stocked each year with hatchery-raised trout. The Beaverkill is no pushover—you have to wade to fish many of its pools properly and its wary browns won't strike clumsy offerings. Still, anglers who take to master this stream will always have, within easy reach, the kind of fishing that others travel hundreds of miles to find.

Perez 3-1 Choice Over Bassett

New York, June 25 (AP)—The little men step into the Madison Square Garden spotlight tonight with classy Lulu Perez of Brooklyn rated a 1-3 choice over experienced Percy Basset of Philadelphia in a featherweight elimination bout.

The winner may get a crack at featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and because of the importance of the scrap the distance has been increased from 10 to 12 rounds. The State Athletic Commission will recognize the victor as the No. 1 contender.

Why the hard-hitting 26-year-old Bassett is such a big underdog is hard to understand. It's true he lost his last two fights but they were to Cisco Andrade and Orlando Zulueta, two high-ranking lightweights. His overall record is 61-10-1 wtih 39 knockouts. He's been stopped once, by Charley Riley.

Perez, on the other hand, has won three in a row and his record is 36-2 with 20 knockouts.

Middlecoff Hits 6-Under Par 65

Wethersfield, Conn., June 25 (AP)—Cary Middlecoff, the Tennessee dentist, shot a 6-under par 65 yesterday to pace the opening round of the four-day, 72-hole $15,000 Insurance City Open. He pasted the 6,561-yard Wethersfield Country Club course for 31-34—65, which included six birdies, and missed eight others, three of them when the ball rimmed the cup and bounced out.

Had any of those missed birdies stayed in, he would have equalled the course record of 64, registered last year by Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., who opened with 69 yesterday. Nearest to Middlecoff, however, are Earle Stewart, lanky Texan, and Leo Biagetti, Sandusky, O., with 68s.

Defending champ Bob Toski, Livingston, N. J., carded a 70, along with 15 others, including Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., runnerup in last week's National Open. Eighteen hole rounds are scheduled today, tomorrow and Sunday.

FISH-PLAYING TIPS

IF YOU WANT TO STOP A FISH'S RUN, WHEN FISHING FROM A BOAT, POINT YOUR ROD TIP DOWN INTO THE WATER AS YOU APPLY THE "BRAKES." IT PUTS A DOWN-PULL ON THE FISH, USUALLY STARTING HIM BORING DOWN IN AN UNDERWATER FIGHT. IF THE BOTTOM IS SNAGGY, RAISE ROD AGAIN AFTER FISH CHANGES DIRECTION. OTHERWISE, HE MAY SNAG LINE ON THE BOTTOM.

LET A FISH RUN WITH SLIGHT LINE-TENSION UNLESS HE IS BOUND FOR WEEDS, ETC., THEN STOP HIM. RETRIEVE WHEN HE STOPS OR CHANGES DIRECTION.

Criminal Job

Compton, Calif. (AP)—Applying for a policeman's job here amounts to an offense. An economy-minded police department uses regular booking forms for applicants, since the facts required are pretty much the same as those needed for law violators. In the space where it asks the nature of the violation is placed: "Police applicant."

The aide added that Moore did not consider it likely that the convention would take such action.

Perez 3-1 Choice Over Bassett

New York, June 25 (AP)—The little men step into the Madison Square Garden spotlight tonight with classy Lulu Perez of Brooklyn rated a 1-3 choice over experienced Percy Basset of Philadelphia in a featherweight elimination bout.

The winner may get a crack at featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and because of the importance of the scrap the distance has been increased from 10 to 12 rounds. The State Athletic Commission will recognize the victor as the No. 1 contender.

Why the hard-hitting 26-year-old Bassett is such a big underdog is hard to understand. It's true he lost his last two fights but they were to Cisco Andrade and Orlando Zulueta, two high-ranking lightweights. His overall record is 61-10-1 wtih 39 knockouts. He's been stopped once, by Charley Riley.

Perez, on the other hand, has won three in a row and his record is 36-2 with 20 knockouts.

Miron Lumber	2	3

Miron Lumber shaded Trailways, 6-4, in a National Little League in which most of the scoring was done in the early frames, yesterday at Kingman Park.

The Trailways led 3-1 at the end of the first, but Mirons rallied with four in the second.

Jack Fisher allowed five hits, including back to back homers by Louis Klein and Ray Radel in the first inning, but was tough after that.

Mirons collected six hits off Terry Corkery and Henry Schatzel. Fisher struck out 11 and Schatzel fanned six.

Ray Radel had a double in addition to his homer. Warren Stewart singled and doubled for the winners.

At the end of the week's schedule, Ray Radel leads the National League batters with a .533 average. Terry Corkery is hitting .529 and Doug Mellin .462.

Middlecoff Hits 6-Under Par 65

Wethersfield, Conn., June 25 (AP)—Cary Middlecoff, the Tennessee dentist, shot a 6-under par 65 yesterday to pace the opening round of the four-day, 72-hole $15,000 Insurance City Open. He pasted the 6,561-yard Wethersfield Country Club course for 31-34—65, which included six birdies, and missed eight others, three of them when the ball rimmed the cup and bounced out.

Had any of those missed birdies stayed in, he would have equalled the course record of 64, registered last year by Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., who opened with 69 yesterday. Nearest to Middlecoff, however, are Earle Stewart, lanky Texan, and Leo Biagetti, Sandusky, O., with 68s.

Defending champ Bob Toski, Livingston, N. J., carded a 70, along with 15 others, including Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., runnerup in last week's National Open. Eighteen hole rounds are scheduled today, tomorrow and Sunday.

FISH-PLAYING TIPS

IF YOU WANT TO STOP A FISH'S RUN, WHEN FISHING FROM A BOAT, POINT YOUR ROD TIP DOWN INTO THE WATER AS YOU APPLY THE "BRAKES." IT PUTS A DOWN-PULL ON THE FISH, USUALLY STARTING HIM BORING DOWN IN AN UNDERWATER FIGHT. IF THE BOTTOM IS SNAGGY, RAISE ROD AGAIN AFTER FISH CHANGES DIRECTION. OTHERWISE, HE MAY SNAG LINE ON THE BOTTOM.

LET A FISH RUN WITH SLIGHT LINE-TENSION UNLESS HE IS BOUND FOR WEEDS, ETC., THEN STOP HIM. RETRIEVE WHEN HE STOPS OR CHANGES DIRECTION.

Criminal Job

Compton, Calif. (AP)—Applying for a policeman's job here amounts to an offense. An economy-minded police department uses regular booking forms for applicants, since the facts required are pretty much the same as those needed for law violators. In the space where it asks the nature of the violation is placed: "Police applicant."

Moore Is No Candidate

Albany, June 25 (AP)—Frank C. Moore, former lieutenant governor, definitely will not be a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, even if Gov. Dewey decides not to seek a fourth term, an aide to Moore said today. Asked whether Moore would decline to accept the nomination if the convention named him next September, the aide said: "We're not even going to talk about it to that extent." The aide added that Moore did not consider it likely that the convention would take such action.

Hurricane Moves On Texas Coast

Dallas, Tex., June 25 (AP)—The season's first hurricane, labeled "Alice," moved toward the lower Texas coast early today, the weather bureau said.

The Dallas weather station said the hurricane, with winds up to 80 miles per hour in a small area near the center, was 160 miles south southeast of Brownsville in the Gulf of Mexico when the New Orleans station issued the first advisory.

Gales up to 60 and 70 miles per hour extended 70 to 100 miles east and north of the hurricane's center, the advisory said.

Movement of the hurricane was at a rate of 6 to 10 miles per hour.

Brownsville, in the path of the storm, had gusts of wind up to 45 miles per hour at 4:30 a. m. (CST).

Churchill . . .

President Richard Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles, British ambassador Sir Roger Makins and other British commonwealth envoys here.

Then, after a moment's conference with his American hosts, Churchill marched stoutly to a waiting battery of microphones and said:

"I have had a very comfortable journey from my fatherland to my mothers land. (His mother was an American).

"I've come with Anthony Eden to talk over a few family matters and try to make sure that there are no misunderstandings.

"The English-speaking family or brotherhood is rather a large one and not entirely without a few things here and there.

"And if we work together we may get along all right ourselves and do a lot to help our neighbors in the world, some of whom on either side of the iron curtain seem to have even greater problems than ourselves."

When he finished speaking Churchill turned to Secretary of State Dulles whom he has known for a long time and asked in a Churchillian growl "was that all right?" Dulles grinned and warmly shook his hand.

Eden made no statement. Expected public welcoming comments by Nixon and Dulles also went undelivered. Nine minutes after he set foot on American soil, Churchill climbed into an open convertible with Nixon and they drove to the White House. Eden and Dulles followed in a second car.

Eisenhower, with a broad grin on his face, welcomed Churchill at the White House steps with a vigorous handshake, and a "good morning."

Holding Churchill's left elbow, the President helped the British leader up the stairs where he introduced him to Mrs. Eisenhower. They paused for about three minutes while nearly 100 photographers, newsreel and television cameramen recorded the greeting.

Post-Death . . .

mistake committed by, and treason committed against, the State of New Jersey for the past 20 years."

"The Democrats are trying to ride in a Democratic senator on a corpse."

She said the administration broke its word to treat the case "as decently and quietly as... humanly possible," and so she had come to a decision to make public the papers.

The 58-year-old Hoffman, governor from 1935 to 1938, was suspended March 18 and died before the state's charges were revealed. Meyner announced a 16-count report against him 10 days ago.

Hoffman's documents answered many of the charges, which he presumably learned about because of conferences between Meyner and Harry Green, who was acting as Hoffman's attorney.

One count said Hoffman entered into leases of property and construction of buildings without submitting contracts to the state house commission or the director of purchase and property.

"There is nothing wrong, to the best of my knowledge, with the rental-purchase agreements entered into by the state," wrote Hoffman.

"We entered into this type of arrangement at the urging of the federal government, and I believe that it represents sound business judgment."

Moreover, Hoffman's letter said when Meyner was a state senator and a practicing lawyer, he represented a group of people who wanted to construct division local office buildings.

Meyner commented on Mrs. Leonard's news conference: "I have no desire to defame the memory of a dead man, but the public is entitled to the facts and will get them."

Fourteen Persons

Revenue Bureau officers and employes "with the intent in defendants then and there to influence official decisions and actions on matters, investigations, and criminal proceedings," pending before Steinberg.

The indictment set out that the defendants and co-conspirators sought to empede the House subcommittee investigation by advising witnesses to give evasive, fictitious, fraudulent, vague, false and manufactured testimony, and to refuse to answer pertinent questions.

There is a similar allegation concerning a Brooklyn grand jury investigation.

Grunewald, a long-time Washington "wire-puller" who had connections in high places, served a brief term for contempt. This grew out of his refusal to answer scores of questions put to him by the House investigators.

Six New Elks Are Initiated by Lodge

Kingston Lodge 550, BPO Elks, initiated its first class of candidates for the current year on Thursday evening at the Elks Home on Fair street.

Those initiated were: J. Sanford Cross, John Fisher, John A. McBride, Chester D. Mohr, Thomas D. Provenzano and Hubert A. Richter. Welcomed back were former brothers Graham Davis and Fred Davi.

Conducting the ritual were John Machione, esteemed exalted ruler; Charles Higgins, esteemed leading knight; Frank Simpson, esteemed loyal knight; John Sharot, esteemed lecturing knight; Harry Abramowitz, esquire; Dr. Morton Lown, P.E.R., secretary; Paul J. Kamen, treasurer; Dr. Harry Meinhardt, junior tiler; the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, chaplain, and Ken Peters, inner guard.

Among the honored guests was Peter Barmann, Jr., the only active charter member of the lodge.

The ritual followed the serving of a dinner for initiates, sponsors and committee members. The dinner was served under the direction of Peter Misasi, house committee chairman, who was assisted by several ladies.

Skipper and Crew

ing bay boat basin before making the trip to Kingston, N. Y.

The mariners, who will return to England in about two weeks, were tired and drawn from lack of sleep as they landed. Some had been severely seasick.

But they arrived clean-shaven and neat. Harcourt-Smith had warned them as they neared land: "We're not going to arrive unshaven and looking like a bag of ragamuffins."

He called the weather on the trip "appalling" and said the ship actually lost ground more than once in storms.

A tall, spare man, Harcourt-Smith said this will be the first small vessel without sail ever to make a round-trip Atlantic crossing. Others have made it one way, however.

Lt. Cmdr. Tom E. Hight, who served as mate, said he has crossed the Atlantic 316 times.

"I was never more glad to see Ambrose Light"—which marks the entrance to New York harbor—he said.

The return trip is expected to take about 20 days, if the weather is better.

McCarthy-Army

was: Do you like Sen. McCarthy more or less as a result of the hearing? Voting "More" were 15,038 against 12,009 "Less."

The Sun-Times said of 31,006 votes on whether McCarthy has proved his case, 32.9 per cent voted yes; 55.0 per cent no and 12.1 per cent partially.

Before and After

Of 31,135 votes on the opinion of McCarthy before the hearing, the count was 29.2 per cent favorable; 55.4 per cent unfavorable and 15.4 per cent no opinion.

Of 31,055 votes on the opinion of McCarthy after the hearing, the poll showed 34.2 per cent favorable; 36.3 per cent unfavorable and 0.5 per cent no opinion.

Both newspapers were critical of McCarthy during the recent hearings.

The Tribune's poll ended yesterday, with votes from 70,036 persons in six days showing 91.2 per cent for McCarthy, 7.9 per cent for the Army and 0.9 per cent undecided. The vote was on whether the Army or McCarthy proved their respective case. In general, the Tribune's editorial policy was favorable to McCarthy's strong anti-communism stand but at times critical of some of his methods.

Soviets Accuse

ing the security of Soviet merchant ships sailing in that area."

(In Pearl Harbor, Adm. Felix B. Stump denied any American warship was involved. Stump, commander of the U. S. Pacific fleet, said "no U. S. warship has seized any Russian ship").

(Chinese Nationalist officials on Formosa withheld comment on the affair. The Nationalist navy, which regularly harasses Communist shipping off the Red China coast, operates destroyers and patrol craft loaned by the United States).

The Soviet note, handed U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen late yesterday demanded the immediate return of the Tuapse, its crew and its cargo of petroleum products, as well as the "severe punishment of the American officials concerned in the organization of this unlawful act."

The position given for the alleged seizure in the Luzon Straits, about 125 miles south of Formosa and 60 miles north of the main Philippine Island of Luzon.

Could Mean Patrols

The Russian threat of measures to safeguard its shipping could mean the establishment of Soviet naval patrols in the ocean approaches to Communist China.

Nationalist Chinese warships have seized ships in the Formosa area in their attempt to enforce an economic blockade of the Chinese mainland.

Unofficial quarters on Formosa said if the Taupse had been seized by a Nationalist warship, the Soviet Union would file a protest to the United States for propaganda reasons.

Yonkers Tries . . .

workers and to the community would make a decision of this character without consultation," he said.

Company officers said the strike was only one of the many factors involved in the decision to abandon the plant and move manufacturing operations to factories in Greenville, Miss., and Philadelphia.

Officials said the Yonkers plant had "grown up like Topsy," with some of the buildings dating back to 1871.

Though it is valued at 10 million dollars, they said, it cannot compare in productive efficiency with new integrated mills like the one opened last July in Greenville.

The Greenville enterprise, now employing 400 persons, was built for Alexander Smith at its own specifications by the city of Greenville from a $3,370,000 bond issue. The company is to pay back the cost over a period of 20 years.

Employment at Yonkers has slowly been going downhill. Six years ago nearly 7,000 persons were on the payroll. In 1951 it had dropped to 5,500. Only about 2,400 were working when the strike began this month.

will relieve the pressure condition in the 12th Ward and adjacent areas.

"It has been the experience of water systems throughout the country that sprinkling demands lower pressures and increase consumption by as much as 30 per cent. In line with the accepted practice in most cities, the Kingston Water Board has had, for many years, an established regulation on lawn sprinkling. This regulation is called to the attention of the public on occasions when the welfare of the entire community is affected. The Department feels that when the people of the city understand the necessity for its ruling, they will endeavor to cooperate."

Hurricane Moves On Texas Coast

Dallas, Tex., June 25 (AP)—The season's first hurricane, labeled "Alice," moved toward the lower Texas coast early today, the weather bureau said.

The Dallas weather station said the hurricane, with winds up to 80 miles per hour in a small area near the center, was 160 miles south southeast of Brownsville in the Gulf of Mexico when the New Orleans station issued the first advisory.

Gales up to 60 and 70 miles per hour extended 70 to 100 miles east and north of the hurricane's center, the advisory said.

Movement of the hurricane was at a rate of 6 to 10 miles per hour.

Brownsville, in the path of the storm, had gusts of wind up to 45 miles per hour at 4:30 a. m. (CST).

Churchill . . .

President Richard Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles, British ambassador Sir Roger Makins and other British commonwealth envoys here.

Then, after a moment's conference with his American hosts, Churchill marched stoutly to a waiting battery of microphones and said:

"I have had a very comfortable journey from my fatherland to my mothers land. (His mother was an American).

"I've come with Anthony Eden to talk over a few family matters and try to make sure that there are no misunderstandings.

"The English-speaking family or brotherhood is rather a large one and not entirely without a few things here and there.

"And if we work together we may get along all right ourselves and do a lot to help our neighbors in the world, some of whom on either side of the iron curtain seem to have even greater problems than ourselves."

When he finished speaking Churchill turned to Secretary of State Dulles whom he has known for a long time and asked in a Churchillian growl "was that all right?" Dulles grinned and warmly shook his hand.

Eden made no statement. Expected public welcoming comments by Nixon and Dulles also went undelivered. Nine minutes after he set foot on American soil, Churchill climbed into an open convertible with Nixon and they drove to the White House. Eden and Dulles followed in a second car.

Eisenhower, with a broad grin on his face, welcomed Churchill at the White House steps with a vigorous handshake, and a "good morning."

Holding Churchill's left elbow, the President helped the British leader up the stairs where he introduced him to Mrs. Eisenhower. They paused for about three minutes while nearly 100 photographers, newsreel and television cameramen recorded the greeting.

Post-Death . . .

mistake committed by, and treason committed against, the State of New Jersey for the past 20 years."

"The Democrats are trying to ride in a Democratic senator on a corpse."

She said the administration broke its word to treat the case "as decently and quietly as... humanly possible," and so she had come to a decision to make public the papers.

The 58-year-old Hoffman, governor from 1935 to 1938, was suspended March 18 and died before the state's charges were revealed. Meyner announced a 16-count report against him 10 days ago.

Hoffman's documents answered many of the charges, which he presumably learned about because of conferences between Meyner and Harry Green, who was acting as Hoffman's attorney.

One count said Hoffman entered into leases of property and construction of buildings without submitting contracts to the state house commission or the director of purchase and property.

"There is nothing wrong, to the best of my knowledge, with the rental-purchase agreements entered into by the state," wrote Hoffman.

"We entered into this type of arrangement at the urging of the federal government, and I believe that it represents sound business judgment."

Moreover, Hoffman's letter said when Meyner was a state senator and a practicing lawyer, he represented a group of people who wanted to construct division local office buildings.

Meyner commented on Mrs. Leonard's news conference: "I have no desire to defame the memory of a dead man, but the public is entitled to the facts and will get them."

Fourteen Persons

Revenue Bureau officers and employes "with the intent in defendants then and there to influence official decisions and actions on matters, investigations, and criminal proceedings," pending before Steinberg.

The indictment set out that the defendants and co-conspirators sought to empede the House subcommittee investigation by advising witnesses to give evasive, fictitious, fraudulent, vague, false and manufactured testimony, and to refuse to answer pertinent questions.

There is a similar allegation concerning a Brooklyn grand jury investigation.

Grunewald, a long-time Washington "wire-puller" who had connections in high places, served a brief term for contempt. This grew out of his refusal to answer scores of questions put to him by the House investigators.

Six New Elks Are Initiated by Lodge

Kingston Lodge 550, BPO Elks, initiated its first class of candidates for the current year on Thursday evening at the Elks Home on Fair street.

Those initiated were: J. Sanford Cross, John Fisher, John A. McBride, Chester D. Mohr, Thomas D. Provenzano and Hubert A. Richter. Welcomed back were former brothers Graham Davis and Fred Davi.

Conducting the ritual were John Machione, esteemed exalted ruler; Charles Higgins, esteemed leading knight; Frank Simpson, esteemed loyal knight; John Sharot, esteemed lecturing knight; Harry Abramowitz, esquire; Dr. Morton Lown, P.E.R., secretary; Paul J. Kamen, treasurer; Dr. Harry Meinhardt, junior tiler; the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, chaplain, and Ken Peters, inner guard.

Among the honored guests was Peter Barmann, Jr., the only active charter member of the lodge.

The ritual followed the serving of a dinner for initiates, sponsors and committee members. The dinner was served under the direction of Peter Misasi, house committee chairman, who was assisted by several ladies.

Skipper and Crew

ing bay boat basin before making the trip to Kingston, N. Y.

The mariners, who will return to England in about two weeks, were tired and drawn from lack of sleep as they landed. Some had been severely seasick.

But they arrived clean-shaven and neat. Harcourt-Smith had warned them as they neared land: "We're not going to arrive unshaven and looking like a bag of ragamuffins."

He called the weather on the trip "appalling" and said the ship actually lost ground more than once in storms.

A tall, spare man, Harcourt-Smith said this will be the first small vessel without sail ever to make a round-trip Atlantic crossing. Others have made it one way, however.

Lt. Cmdr. Tom E. Hight, who served as mate, said he has crossed the Atlantic 316 times.

"I was never more glad to see Ambrose Light"—which marks the entrance to New York harbor—he said.

The return trip is expected to take about 20 days, if the weather is better.

McCarthy-Army

was: Do you like Sen. McCarthy more or less as a result of the hearing? Voting "More" were 15,038 against 12,009 "Less."

The Sun-Times said of 31,006 votes on whether McCarthy has proved his case, 32.9 per cent voted yes; 55.0 per cent no and 12.1 per cent partially.

Before and After

Of 31,135 votes on the opinion of McCarthy before the hearing, the count was 29.2 per cent favorable; 55.4 per cent unfavorable and 15.4 per cent no opinion.

Of 31,055 votes on the opinion of McCarthy after the hearing, the poll showed 34.2 per cent favorable; 36.3 per cent unfavorable and 0.5 per cent no opinion.

Both newspapers were critical of McCarthy during the recent hearings.

The Tribune's poll ended yesterday, with votes from 70,036 persons in six days showing 91.2 per cent for McCarthy, 7.9 per cent for the Army and 0.9 per cent undecided. The vote was on whether the Army or McCarthy proved their respective case. In general, the Tribune's editorial policy was favorable to McCarthy's strong anti-communism stand but at times critical of some of his methods.

Soviets Accuse

ing the security of Soviet merchant ships sailing in that area."

(In Pearl Harbor, Adm. Felix B. Stump denied any American warship was involved. Stump, commander of the U. S. Pacific fleet, said "no U. S. warship has seized any Russian ship").

(Chinese Nationalist officials on Formosa withheld comment on the affair. The Nationalist navy, which regularly harasses Communist shipping off the Red China coast, operates destroyers and patrol craft loaned by the United States).

The Soviet note, handed U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen late yesterday demanded the immediate return of the Tuapse, its crew and its cargo of petroleum products, as well as the "severe punishment of the American officials concerned in the organization of this unlawful act."

The position given for the alleged seizure in the Luzon Straits, about 125 miles south of Formosa and 60 miles north of the main Philippine Island of Luzon.

Could Mean Patrols

The Russian threat of measures to safeguard its shipping could mean the establishment of Soviet naval patrols in the ocean approaches to Communist China.

Nationalist Chinese warships have seized ships in the Formosa area in their attempt to enforce an economic blockade of the Chinese mainland.

Unofficial quarters on Formosa said if the Taupse had been seized by a Nationalist warship, the Soviet Union would file a protest to the United States for propaganda reasons.

Yonkers Tries . . .

workers and to the community would make a decision of this character without consultation," he said.

Company officers said the strike was only one of the many factors involved in the decision to abandon the plant and move manufacturing operations to factories in Greenville, Miss., and Philadelphia.

Officials said the Yonkers plant had "grown up like Topsy," with some of the buildings dating back to 1871.

Though it is valued at 10 million dollars, they said, it cannot compare in productive efficiency with new integrated mills like the one opened last July in Greenville.

The Greenville enterprise, now employing 400 persons, was built for Alexander Smith at its own specifications by the city of Greenville from a $3,370,000 bond issue. The company is to pay back the cost over a period of 20 years.

Employment at Yonkers has slowly been going downhill. Six years ago nearly 7,000 persons were on the payroll. In 1951 it had dropped to 5,500. Only about 2,400 were working when the strike began this month.

will relieve the pressure condition in the 12th Ward and adjacent areas.

"It has been the experience of water systems throughout the country that sprinkling demands lower pressures and increase consumption by as much as 30 per cent. In line with the accepted practice in most cities, the Kingston Water Board has had, for many years, an established regulation on lawn sprinkling. This regulation is called to the attention of the public on occasions when the welfare of the entire community is affected. The Department feels that when the people of the city understand the necessity for its ruling, they will endeavor to cooperate."

Resigns Position At Local Church

DONALD R. ROMME

The resignation of Donald R. Romme, minister of music at the First Dutch Reformed Church, has been accepted by the church consistory. The resignation will become effective at the close of the current church music year, September 1.

Henry Millonig, chairman of the music committee, speaking for the consistory expressed regret at the resignation and appreciation for the years of service given to the church.

During the five years Romme directed the music at the church, he wrote a number of anthems and chorales especially for the senior choir. His cantata, The Cross of Christ, published last year, is dedicated to the choir.

Among the numbers written are: O, Sacred Head, with organ and piano accompaniments; Psalm 100; Psalm 69 with two piano accompaniments; The Lord's Prayer; Call to Worship; Choral Amens; and arrangements of When Wilt Thou Save the People; Mighty Fortress; Take My Life; Come, Dearest Lord.

In addition there was an arrangement for mixed voices of Randall Thompson's "Testament of Freedom," sung by the senior choir at several of the patriotic services.

Romme is director of The King's Chorus, local choral group. He also directed several community presentations of "The Messiah."

Aircraft Claims Made

Los Angeles, June 25 (AP)—The aircraft industry claims today it has surpassed the auto industry in total manpower and is leading manufacturing employer in the United States. The Aircraft Industries Assn. reported that aircraft manufacturing now employs 823,000 compared with 786,000 for automobiles. The figures it added, are from the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Identical Twins Sought

New York, June 25 (AP)—The National Multiple Sclerosis Society is seeking identical twins, either or both of whom suffer from the disease, to find out if heredity or environment causes the crippling of the central nervous system. The society yesterday asked any twins suffering from multiple sclerosis, the cause and cure of which are unknown, to contact its offices at 270 Park avenue here.

Graham Has X-Rays

Duesseldorf, Germany, June 25 (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham was admitted to a hospital here today after waking up "feeling awful" but was returned to his hotel room after an examination. A German doctor said results of the examination would not be known until an X-ray of Graham's chest and abdomen is developed. The preacher's condition was not considered serious. There was an unconfirmed report that he was suffering from a gall bladder condition. Jerry Beavan, Graham's secretary, said "Billy woke up awfully sick. We called a doctor. The doctor recommended that he be sent to a hospital immediately for a complete che up."
